

IF YOU DON'T GET YOUR PROGRESS
LET US KNOW

CLEARFIELD PROGRESS

THE WEATHER
Fair tonight; somewhat cold-
er. Wednesday cloudy and slightly warmer.

VOLUME XVII

THE CLEARFIELD PROGRESS, CLEARFIELD, PA.,

TUESDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 27, 1923.

NUMBER 49

MOUNT PLEASANT BANK CASHIER DIES OF WOUNDS

Mount Pleasant, Ohio, Feb. 27.—Harry Price, Assistant Cashier of the Mount Pleasant Bank who heroically defended the funds of that institution against bandits Saturday morning, died early today at the Ohio Valley Hospital from his wounds.

Following his death, the banks in the small towns about Mount Pleasant pooled together a reward of $1200 for the apprehension of the bandits.

The town marshal of one of the villages has notified the sheriff that he believes he has the car in which the bandits rode, he having located a car stripped of license plates and having therein a quantity of blood stained absorbent cotton and handkerchiefs.

BRADFORD SLAYER REFUSED CLEMENCY FOR FOURTH TIME

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 27.—The Board of Pardons today announced they had refused commutation of death sentence to Floyd Smith of Bradford county, who is under sentence of death for the killing of his three week old illegitimate daughter.

The refusal marks the end of the most determined struggle ever made in the state of Pennsylvania for a human life. The case has been up before the Pardon Board four times and seven times has the defendant been saved from the electric chair through reprieves from the governor's office. The Board acted on eighteen cases and gave clemency in only five of them. Among those refused clemency was Lakin C. Taylor, convicted of the fraudulent sale of the Pittsburgh Steel and Tinplate Company of which he was the president.

Work Takes Place Of Fall; New Is Postmaster General

Washington, Feb. 27.—President Harding today appointed former Postmaster General Hubert Work to be Secretary of the Interior to succeed Albert Fall whose resignation takes effect on March 4th.

The President named Harry S. New, recently defeated for the nomination for Senator from Indiana, to succeed Work at Postmaster General.

62 DEER SEEN IN TRIP ACROSS THE MOUNTAINS

Claire Kelly, game protector, made a trip across the mountains on last Friday, the purpose being to observe how the deer are faring during the winter, and to secure some photographs. It took Mr. Kelly 12 hours to make the trip from Weedville to Clearfield and during the journey he saw 62 deer, in groups from a lone animal to 30 in a bunch. The deer seemed to be thriving, despite the fact that about two feet of snow prevail in the mountains.

Mr. Kelly stated that the traveling was very difficult for him and naturally the deer are also handicapped to a great extent. During the severe weather of the past two weeks the animals have been moving to the southern slopes where the snow is not so deep.

Mr. Kelly will go to Ridgway today, where he will superintend the distribution of a carload of Michigan deer. The deer, about fifteen in number, arrived at Ridgway last evening. They will be taken to the preserve near Spring Creek and liberated.

BRIG. GENERAL HINES HEADS VETERANS' BUREAU OF U. S.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Brigadier General Hines, at present chief of staff, was today appointed to the U. S. Veterans' Bureau to succeed Chas. Forbes who resigned.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY REVEALED WHEN BOATHOUSE BURNS

Woodbury, N. J., Feb. 27.—Residents of Mount Royal near here were attracted to a burning boathouse on Mantua Creek early today. In it they found Viola Staley, aged 23, dead with a bullet wound in her head and Harry Moal, unconscious with a bullet wound in his head.

The Coroner immediately began an investigation. Moal told the authorities the girl set fire to the boathouse and then committed suicide. Two notes found in Moal's pockets, one purporting to have been written by the girl, saying she had quarreled with Moal and threatened suicide and the other in Moal's handwriting saying he had attempted to commit suicide through fear that he would be held for the girl's death.

SUE TO GET MONEY SUBSCRIBED FOR STOCK BY MERCHANT

Some Clearfield county merchants are finding their dreams of easy money through their joining a wholesale purchasing agency or concern have gone aglimmering and they are now facing the fact that the notes they signed may be collectible even though the promises of the promoters of the enterprise did not assay "18-carat fine," in their opinions.

Yesterday ex-Deputy Attorney General W. I. Swoope, representing the American Dealers Trading Company, with a Delaware charter, entered suits in Prothonotary Ralston's office against Jacob Smutzinger, now of Phillipsburg, but formerly of Munson, this county; Thomas R. McCracken, of Mahaffey, and William Christoff, trading as the Brislin Lumber and Construction Company in an effort to collect $100 from each defendant named, being the amount of stock subscribed for in the proposed concern at the time it was being formed. According to the glib-tongued stock salesman, it is said, all stockholders in the concern would be privileged to purchase coal, lumber, cement, grain flour, feed, etc., at wholesale price and would reap great financial benefit from their association with the concern.

However, and regardless of the great promises made the defendants became disillusioned before the entire deal was consummated and refused to let go of the hundred plunks when called upon for same by the promoters. These latter gentlemen allege the corporation was formed nevertheless and the expense incident thereto require them to make every fellow who signed up pay up, hence the effort to enlist the machinery of the Clearfield county courts to make the collection for the stock purchased.

These stock salesmen visited Clearfield, with the intention of doing quite a business here on an advertising campaign in the newspapers. The Progress did not accept their advertising as we do not lend our aid to stock promotion schemes.

MRS. RAIZEN DRAWS 20 YEAR SENTENCE

New York, Feb. 27.—Mrs. Katherine Raizen was sentenced this morning to an indeterminate sentence ranging from twenty years to life in the state prison at Auburn, N. Y., for the murder of Dr. Glickstein on December 10th last.

There was a large crowd in the court room when Justice Gropp pronounced sentence. The prisoner took her sentence with a calm demeanor.

POWDER MAGAZINE BLOW-UP ENDANGERS TOWN OF SUPERIOR

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 27.—Practically every house at the little town of Superior, where is located Superior Mine No. 1 of the Superior Coal Company, was partially wrecked and shattered early today when a giant powder magazine near the mine "let go." The fan house, engine rooms and other machinery was damaged but the mine officials deny that any of the men in the mine were in danger. Scores were injured by flying rocks and debris.

WOMAN SHINER DID LOTS OF BUSINESS; JURY SAYS GUILTY

Mrs. Jane Covey, who comes from above Ramey and is said to have been one of the most notorious moon shiners and purveyors of the "devil's brew" she is said to have long been manufacturing, was convicted by a jury in Judge Bell's court yesterday afternoon. The evidence produced by the District Attorney was convincing despite the efforts made in her defense by Cortes Bell, Esq., and a couple of male character witnesses. The testimony of the latter was offset by that of five or six women of the community in which Mrs. Covey operated. It is alleged the bootlegger had a unique but highly successful way by which she secured empty bottles for her trade and is further alleged that not an empty catsup bottle can be found in the cellars of that community for miles around, while some of the fellows patronizing the place were gathering copious as far north as Houtald.

Mrs. Jane Stenesky, of Elbert township, who was tried in criminal court this morning on a moonshining charge, was found guilty of an attempt to violate the liquor law by having in her possession a big husky still and a barrel of mash well underway to produce a "kick." The woman was skillfully defended by J. M. Bell Chase, his efforts resulting in the jury tacking onto their verdict a recommendation to the Court for extreme mercy toward the culprit.

Siro Bianchi, of Coalport, who was found by the Federal prohibition enforcement officers, upon their recent raid in that region, with more wine in his cellar than the law allows, was lucky enough to draw down the minimum fine of $100 when he faced Judge Bell in criminal court this morning.

Federal Officer Sprague told the Court they had no evidence of a sale of the stuff by Bianchi, while J. M. Coleman, Geo. D. Benn and John K. Gorman, representative Coalport citizens all testified to the defendant's good reputation in the community.

CHICAGO LABOR WAR DEATH LOSS PUT AT 26 BY NIGHT RIOT

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 27.—Chicago's labor war claimed its twenty-sixth victim today when one man was shot and another wounded at a pitched battle during a meeting of the butchers' union. The shooting started when the Hebrew delegates threatened to withdraw from the Amalgamated Butchers' Union and set up a separate organization. Over fifty shots were fired.

EAST END BOY DIES

The little 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Caldwell, who has been an invalid for some time, passed away at the family home on Darcy street, about 8 o'clock Sunday morning. The funeral was held this afternoon, with interment at Bloomington.

FIEND CONFESSES TO BRUTAL MURDER OF LITTLE CHILD

Philadelphia, Feb. 26.—Wiley Morgan, the prisoner held in connection with the kidnapping Saturday of six year old Lillian Gilmore and her five year old sister Dorothy, confessed today and led the detectives to a spot on the Neshamy creek near Croydon, Pa., where the body of Lillian was found in a camp hole on the bank of the creek. Croydon is 20 miles north of this city.

Beyond stating that he had killed the child and thrown her body on the bank of the creek after having assaulted both, the police withheld the details of Morgan's confession.

Shortly after the searching party headed by Lieutenant Belchaw, of the "murder squad" returned to the city a large crowd surrounded the station where Morgan was placed and threatened violence to the prisoner freely were made, and for a time, it was feared an attempt would be made to storm the building. The police, however, soon gained control of the situation and dispersed the crowd.

AIR MAIL CARRIER CRASHES TO DEATH NEAR MEADVILLE

Meadville, Pa., Feb. 26.—Elmer Leach, of Cleveland, O., United States air mail carrier, was instantly killed about ten miles west of Meadville, shortly before 4 o'clock this afternoon when his plane crashed to the ground on the farm of Fred A. Crawford. The body was brought to Meadville this evening and an inquest ordered.

Leach passed over Meadville about 4 o'clock this afternoon, apparently in trouble, and looking for a place to land. He passed over the Crawford County Trust building not more than forty feet above the roof and over the Fifth ward at not more than fifty feet above ground, then disappeared westward. He was flying government plane No. 291 from Bellefonte, Pa., to Cleveland, and evidently lost his way in the fog.

ANTHRACITE TAX REPEAL WILL BE FOUGHT ON FLOOR

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 27.—The House Ways and Means Committee today favorably reported the Fowler bill calling for the repeal of the anthracite tax. The vote by the committee was 25 to 12. Many of the committee members, however, explained that they were not in favor of the repeal but voted to have it come to the floor of the House for a decisive vote.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Naolen Bowers on February 26th, twin girls. The welcome little strangers have been named Emma Lenore and Margaret Catherine in honor of their two grand mothers. Mrs. Bowers before her marriage was Miss Thelma Ogdey.

Buried Alive in Maryland Well

For 26 hours Mervyn Easton (with young well-digger of Savage, Md., was entombed more than 20 feet below the surface at the bottom of a well which caved in when it was being dug. Morphine and coffee was passed down to him while rescuers labored to save him. When rescued, Easton's arm was broken and he was unconscious.

Luis Angel Firpo, champion heavyweight of South America, is shown here on his arrival in New York from the Argentine. He is seeking Chamber's crown.

MURDER OF WEALTHY C. H. S. HAS NOT YET CONTRACTOR LAID TO LOVE AFFAIRS

New York City, Feb. 27.—A woman seen hurrying from the scene of his tragedy was sought today by the police following the murder of Fred Schneider, millionaire contractor, whose body was found on the lonely Seaview Avenue road with bullet wounds in his head. Two other women, one the wife from whom Schneider had been divorced, and his housekeeper, known as "Mrs. Schneider," were assisting the police. The housekeeper, Mrs. Anna Buzzi, aged 35, was questioned by detectives for six hours last night, after which she was held as a material witness. Schneider is about 16 years of age. Meantime the police are probing deeper into Schneider's love affairs. The housekeeper is the woman who was named as correspondent in the divorce action by Schneider's wife.

OLD TIME HOUTZDALER HERE

Isadore Frelin, of Houtzdale, aged 94 years, and one of the oldest residents of Clearfield county, was a Clearfield visitor yesterday. While here on a business matter he was the guest of his attorney, W. A. Hagerty. Mr. Frelin is exceptionally well preserved for a man of his years, retaining all his faculties to a remarkable degree.

MRS. J. R. McCARTY

Marie, wife of James Raymond McCarty of Pine Street, died shortly after eight o'clock this morning after a three weeks illness of articular rheumatism, which caused a weakened heart.

The McCarty family of four, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McCarty and two little boys, aged four and six, came to Clearfield early last spring from Uniontown, the husband and father to take a position as compositor and make-up man for The Progress. The finest type of citizens, those who have made their acquaintance, will learn of Mrs. McCarty's death with deep-felt sorrow and sympathize fully with the bereaved family in their loss.

A loving wife and mother, the deceased was indeed the ideal homemaker and her sacrifices during the recent illness of her sons, contributed largely to a weakened constitution which could not withstand the attack of rheumatism which brought her life to a sorrowful and untimely end.

The family will leave for their old home at Uniontown on the noon express. Funeral arrangements are not yet made.

BERLIN CONTINUES TO PROTEST USE OF BLACK TROOPS

Berlin, Germany, Feb. 27.—The controversy between France and Germany over the use of colored troops in the Ruhr by the French was continued today by the government when authoritative dispatches were picked up telling of black troops in two areas. The French have several times officially denied the use of colored troops.

Squire Sol McCully of Ramey was attending to business in Clearfield today. Mr. McCully buried his aged sister last week.

BATTLE BETWEEN DUBOIS CITIZENS NOW ON BOARDS

Long Pending Jeffrey-Carson Case At Last Reaches Trial In the Criminal Court Here.

CHARGE IS SERIOUS

A large portion of the brawn and muscle, bone and sinew, "brains, beauty and brass" of the city of DuBois came to Clearfield today to appear in the case of Com. vs. Hugh Jeffrey, special police officer of DuBois, who is charged by John Carson, DuBois business man and prominent citizen, with aggravated assault and battery and robbery from the person. This case grows out of an altercation between the officer and the citizen, which resulted in the former using, it is contended, more than the legally allowable force of arms in placing the citizen behind the bars of the city bastille. The alleged robbery occurred when the officer is said to have removed a diamond shirt stud and $385 in money from the person of his prisoner before locking him up.

The affair, out of which the prosecution grew occurred during the fall of 1921, the case having been pending since that time but was continued from court to court.

In justice to Mr. Jeffrey it is needless to add that the defendant denies the charges in toto. He contends that he was forced to lock the prosecutor up by reason of his conduct and verbal attack upon him; that there has been bad blood between them for some time and that the prosecution is a matter of spite and not founded upon any actual loss by the prosecutor, who he alleges also received the injuries complained of in falling while attempting to evade arrest.

The prosecution is being handled by District Attorney Arnold and W. C. Miller, while James A. Gleason of DuBois, and Charles J. Margiotti, of Punxsutawney, are the attorneys for the defense.

The case was taken up at 11:30 and examination of jurors begun. The hearing of testimony did not begin until late this afternoon. About fifty of the prominent citizens and city officials of DuBois including the biggest mayor in Clearfield county—Mayor Adam Haag—are in attendance at court as witnesses.

HON. BEN F. CHASE IS SERIOUSLY ILL AT MESSINA, ITALY

Local relatives were advised by wire from the State Department at Washington, D. C., this morning that Hon. B. F. Chase, United States Consul at Messina, Italy, is lying at the point of death in the Italian city, suffering from pneumonia, coupled with a general physical breakdown.

Consul Chase is a son of the late John M. Chase and a Clearfield County boy. He has been in the consular service for the past twenty years and upon his visit with home folks last fall had about decided to resign from the service and engage in business in this county. He is especially capable a representative and the State Department being loath to see him leave the service, induced him to reconsider his determination to resign on the promise of further advancement in the near future and he then decided to return to Messina.

Mrs. Chase is living in Ronkonk, Va., and has also been advised of her husband's serious condition.

TOMORROW IS LAST DAY LEGISLATIVE HOPPER IS OPEN

Harrisburg, Feb. 27.—The House agreed today to set February 28th as the last day for the introduction of bills. Golden, of Philadelphia, who objected so strongly last week, withdrew his objections.

CLASSIFIED ADS FOR EVERYBODY

One Cent Per Word For Each Insertion.
Minimum Charge Twenty-five Cents.

WANTED

WANTED—Two girls at Kanoff Boarding House, 216 Reed street. 2/22/23[ch]

WANTED—Middle aged woman as housekeeper in small family. No laundry work. Apply Mrs. L. A. Gearhart, Corner Turnpike and Martin street. 2/23/23[ch]

WANTED—Room with private family by young man. Write Box "E," care Progress. 2/26/23[pd]

WANTED—Mine foreman, one with first class certificate preferred. P. O. Box No. 235, Clearfield, Pa. 2/27/23[ch]

WANTED—Washings to do at home. Inquire Progress office. 2/27/23[pd]

WANTED—Men for selling attractive article; steady work; good pay. Apply afternoon and evening R. H. Spear, Riverside Hotel. 2/26/23[pd]

WANTED—Young lady of pleasing personality for congenial work. Apply Pig & Whistle Shop, 119 Market street. 2/26/23[ch]

WANTED—Furnished light house-keeping rooms, furnished rooms or room and board for about two months. Must be in desirable location. Address P. O. Box 75. 2/24/23[pd]

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—1920 Overland light Four Roadster. New tires. A-1 condition. Bargain for quick buyer. Inquire Bartell and Dotts, Curwensville, Pa. 2/16/23[ch]

FOR SALE—Soda fountain, Ford car, counters, shelving. Inquire Joe Cologgi, 315 Third street. 2/26/23[ch]

FOR SALE—Buckeye incubator. Style E. 110 egg capacity. Used 2 years. Price $15. Call 72X3 H. & C. or call 506 Fifth street, East End. 2/26/23[ch]

FOR SALE—One team of mares for sale. Will sell one or both at right price. Homer L. McDowell, Clearfield, Pa., R. D. 4. 2/26/23[pd]

FOR SALE—Four female Airdales. From registered stock. Ten dollars each. Roy Strickland, Curwensville. 2/27/23[ch]

FOR SALE—Small truck farm, 2 acres, good warm house with large porch across front and end. Good cellar, cement floor, large lawn, cement walk. Garage 14 ft. x 16 ft. Poultry house 12 ft. x 42 ft. 49 fruit trees, 6 grape vines. Good location for man desiring to work in mine. Twenty minutes walk to 4 different mines. Will sell at a bargain. William Lowe, R. D. 4, Clearfield, Pa. 2/26/23[ch]

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—Two large unfurnished rooms with light and bath. Inquire Mrs. Hartwick Logan, 501 Sixth Street East End. 2/6-7-23

FOR RENT—Four room furnished house. Good location. Inquire Progress. 2/26/23[ch]

FOR RENT—Two room apartment on first floor. Inquire 120 Cemetery Road. 2/24/23[ch]

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—Lady's wide black belt. Had fancy buckle on. Finder please return to Progress office. 2/27/23[pd]

LOST—A bunch of keys Saturday night somewhere in Clearfield or via Curwensville to Olanita. Finder please return to Progress office. 2/27/23[pd]

ITEMS OF INTEREST

OFFICE CLOSED

Dr. C. C. Arnold's office will be closed until further notice on account of sickness. 2/24/23[ch]

NOTICE PROTECTED HOME

Regular meeting Tuesday evening at Malta Hall. Initiation by degree team. State Deputy will be present. All members should be there. 2/26/23[pd]

Your Kind of Sandwiches

Every day we have something in the sandwich way that will be just as tasty as anything that you could possibly get anywhere. And you will find that one of these sandwiches, combined with a milk chocolate made in the way we make them, will make an excellent lunch.

VIRGINIA CHOCOLATE SHOP

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. E. C.

The recent Grand Jury investigation of jail and Court House has resulted in one noticeable improvement as a crude hand printed sign now adorns the lavatory in rear of the first floor hall at the Court House which bears the admonition in these words:—"Any person caught drinking in this room had better move or leave town."

Bootlegging must be rather a lucrative business these days when it becomes necessary for the citizens of a community to petition the court for the appointment of an assistant to a rural constable, in order that the regularly elected officer may have more time for "other things."

Harry P. Bridge, the local representative of the State Water Supply Commission, whose duty it is to keep a careful and accurate record of the snow and rainfall each season, informs us that thus far this winter his official record shows there has been a snowfall of almost six feet. The record up to February 1st shows an even five feet, this month contributing very nearly six feet. Game Keeper Reardon was in from Kennedy Park Game Reserve Saturday and said there is between three and one-half and four feet of snow on the level in the mountains. He reports the deer and pheasants as getting along O. K., but the rabbits are fast being eaten up by foxes, weasels and other vermin. The game keeper makes daily rounds of the Game Reserve on snow shoes.

Out in the far West the wasting of words is discouraged. Even lawyers and judges are said to be economical along that line. Senator Harrel, of Oklahoma, says a judge in his state delivered the shortest address to the jury on record. It was as follows: "Gentlemen of the jury, the prisoner has nothing to say, and I have nothing to say. What have you got to say?"

Borough of Clearfield, Pa., on Wednesday, the 7th day of March, 1923, at 10 o'clock A. M., when and where you may appear with witnesses and be heard if you so desire.

C. R. KRAMER, Commissioner
Clearfield, Pa., February 18th, 1923.
2/13 20 27[ch]

BIDS WANTED
MOOSE TEMPLE BUILDING,
CLEARFIELD, PENNA.

Sealed proposals for furnishing material and construction of the Moose Temple Building for the Loyal Order of Moose, Clearfield, Penna., as per plans and specifications as prepared by W. V. Justus of Punxsutawney, Pa., will be received by the Board of Trustees of Clearfield, Penna., at their present lodge room on 315 Market street, until six p. m. eastern time, March 20, 1923.

Each proposal must be accompanied with a certified check of five percent of their bid, a bond of one hundred percent of the contract price will be required.

Copies of plans and specifications can be obtained at the office of the Architect at 329 East Mahoning street, Punxsutawney, Penna., upon deposit of the sum of twenty dollars with the Architect, ten dollars of which will be refunded upon the return of all prints in good condition, the remainder to be retained to cover printing, mailing, etc., etc.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids.

Plumbing, Heating and Electrical Wiring are not included in the General Contract; to be advertised later. LOYAL ORDER OF MOOSE NO. 97, D. D. GUPPY, Trustee, D. E. McCARTY, Trustee.
2/27/23 3/15/23[ch]

HELP BUILD UP YOUR STRENGTH WITH ORIGINAL VINOL
THE MODERN TONIC

An American medicine prepared by American chemists for American people. The result of twenty-five years' research and study.

LET ORIGINAL VINOL
MAKE YOU STRONG

PRICE $1.00
Guaranteed and sold exclusively by Clearfield, Pa.
STEWART DRUG STORE

LEITZINGER BROS.

Store Opens at 8 A. M.

LEITZINGER BROS.

Store Closes at 5:30 P. M.

SPRING IS JUST AROUND THE CORNER

Gone are the Modes of Winter—here are the Modes of Spring! Each one a vital interpretation of the mode as expert designers have conceived it—each one an irresistible challenge to every woman everywhere. For here is the NEW—the exhilarating—the best and most charming Fashions ever to emerge into an expectant world! Your early and leisurely inspection is requested.

SPRING HATS

Refreshing Alike in Fabric and Trim

No florist's window ever presented a more joyous message of Spring than Hats here do. Beautiful ribbon choux and bows lend a piquant charm—graceful capelines and quaint cap-like shapes loan a quota of romance—sports Hats, flexible in angora, felt or timbo straw are trimmed in enticing handwork. Colors include delectable crushed berry tones, almond green, mimosa and orchid tones.

NEW FABRICS

Pay Due Respect to Printed Silks

The vogue for printed silks has waxed greater and greater since the Deauville races saw its present reign begin. With this Spring have come in exceptionally attractive designs and colors, all adhering to Oriental inspiration. Many new crepe weaves include flat crepes. Taffeta is buoyantly stylish. Wool fabrics include new twills, mixtures and knitted weaves.

And if your taste turns to cotton and linen fabrics we are proud of the array that awaits you. You should not miss the gingham—that wonderful material that has always been popular. Then, too, come the more recent arrivals to the world of cottons, the ratines, the applique dotted voiles, the organdies, the crepes, the flaxons, the Ramie cloth in cotton and linen and Lignette.

IMPORTED PLAIN ORGANDIES, 42 inches wide, permanent finish, yard 50c
PLAIN SUITINGS. A riot of colors, yard wide, yard 30c to 40c
FLAXONS, plain, figured and pin stripe. You should see them, yard 35c

BUTTERICK PATTERNS WILL MAKE YOUR SPRING
SEWING EASIER

LEITZINGER BROTHERS

Try a Progress Job Ad.

STATIONERY

Since we started to have ARGENTONE we have found that a lot of folks have started to get their stationery here simply because they could get this really beautiful paper. It carries so much "class" with it that folks are using more every day.

C. R. BLOOM
Pharmacist
Clearfield, Pa.

KEYSTONE ICE CREAM

made good on hundreds of tables as a dessert on Sunday.

It's because we make it better.

Men Wanted

AMERICAN CAR AND FOUNDRY CO.

Milton, Pa.

Underwood Typewriters
$3.00 DOWN

GALLAHER BROTHERS
Room 14 County Nat'l Bank Bldg.

Genuine standard Underwoods. Easy monthly payments. Five year guarantee. Typewriters for rent. Phone H & C 125 B or 390W.

Curwensville's Own Column

It is now universally conceded that James Black will again be the coach of the Curwensville High School football squad. "Jim" did such excellent work last season in guiding the football team to numerous victories, that the incoming team have all faith that he will put it in shape to top the list this season. Of course he will have the job of breaking in some new material, but as they are promising recruits makes no difference to him, and will not take many weeks to drill them into shape for the games.

The hop held in the rooms of the Red Men last Saturday evening sure was an enjoyable affair, judging from the amount obtainable from those who were present and took active part.

Carl Larson, a gentleman of Swedish persuasion, undertook to have a little jollification over on the South Side Sunday. He is alleged to have imbibed a trifle more bug juice or hard cider than he had capacity for, hence he went out on the war path and made himself so obnoxious that a call was made for Chief of Police Clark, who responded to the cry and gathered Larson in the net, putting him in the borough bastille. The gentleman whose fighting propensities had cooled off over night, was given a hearing before Judge Dale on Monday morning and coughed up five dollars as a reminder of his Sunday actions.

R. M. Wright, who has been confined to his home by illness for several weeks past, is not improving very rapidly and will no doubt be unable to leave his domicile for some days yet.

The persons who had been employed to take an inventory of the stock in the Vaughn store room, Sweeney block, have completed their task, and found stock to the amount of some $1,600 on hand, which will be divided among the creditors pro rata.

Isaac Robinson came up from Clearfield on Sunday to see what had taken place in the town of his youth since removing to the county seat. Before returning down the river he satisfied himself all was well with his old schoolmates and boyhood chums.

Mrs. John Kelly is again confined to her bedroom, having taken a relapse from a recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bloom of Clearfield were in Curwensville over the Sabbath calling on friends and exchanging views with many relatives connected with the Bloom clan.

Mrs. M. R. Karstetter who has been spending a week or more with her daughter, Mrs. James Maxwell, at Bradford, returned to her home in Curwensville yesterday. While she enjoyed her visit immensely, to her Bradford was not Curwensville, her home town.

Little Miss Clara Lord, a bright and energetic daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lord, High street, is ill, carefully nursing an attack of influenza.

Miss Ethel Wright, who has been home on a visit to her father, R. M. Wright, for some time, left yesterday for Benderville, Pa.

The funeral of the late R. M. Decker was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from his home, and was largely attended by friends. The floral offerings were many and profuse, the one given by his fellow workmen at P. H. & L. Tanners was an especially fine one, the design representing a wheel with a section missing, emblematic of a break in the family circle or a vacancy in an organization. The K. of P. offering was a token of the affection in which he was held by that organization and was a beautiful floral design, symbols of the Pythian order. Many other wreaths and flowers were there. The Knights of Pythias had charge of the services, and the house ritual was used instead of that usually read at the graveside. The pall bearers were chosen from the Pythian lodge, of which Mr. Decker was an honored member for many years.

Many Curwensville people will remember the Leathers brothers, who came to the town several years ago and purchased from Charles E. Patton the farm land above town, part of which is now occupied by Josie Dale. The ground was platted into town lots and a number of them sold. Monday O. C. Norris was the recipient of the following letter from J. T. Leathers, dated February 22nd at Kansas City: "Dear Friend:—I am writing this letter to notify you of the sudden and sad death of my brother, Fred Leathers, which occurred on the night of February 22nd at 9:50 o'clock at the Baptist hospital, Dallas, Texas. Fred suffered a stroke on the morning of the 15th at Dallas, and his wife took him to the Baptist hospital, where he was conscious to the last. On account

John Barrymore is at his best in "Sherlock Holmes" coming to the Driggs on Wednesday and Thursday.

How-To Put A "Kick" In It

—A tip for "wets" and "drys!"

We are all liable to feel "out of sorts" at times—need something with a "kick" in it to clear the brain, brighten the eye, put "pep" in the system.

Best way to do this is to take—with or without, a "chaser"—that harmless yet thoroughly efficient family medicine, Beecham's Pills.

"Two for adults and one for children" is the phrase of health that has meant good digestion and a clear system to countless healthy, happy people the world over for the past 80 years.

At All Druggists—25c and 50c of the illness of Fred's wife, who was unable to make the long journey east, we held the services at Muskogee, Oklahoma, at the Dallas apartments where I reside. Regular funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon, February 25th. Please notify our Curwensville friends.

George Bressler, who was quite severely injured at the Summit sole leather tannery about one month ago, has gradually improved until he will be able to be up and about again in a few weeks.

The Senior class of the High School has secured a sufficient sale of tickets to warrant the reproduction of the comedy "Mr. Temple's Telegram" in the Opera House tomorrow night. These who have not witnessed this famous comedy in three acts, should not neglect this opportunity to enjoy an hour's time of real fun and frolic.

Mrs. M. V. Reed, North Pine street, is slowly recovering from an attack of quinsy.

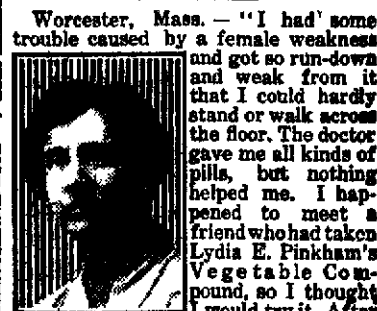

Mrs. O. C. Ardary and daughter are both recovering from an attack of gripe and pneumonia.

Miss Perdita Ardary, who is teaching at Keewardin, was home over the week-end on account of the illness of her mother and sister.

A producer admits he introduced Charlie Chaplin and Pola Negri who are engaged now. It was very honest of him to take the blame.

MRS. HICKEY SO WEAK COULD HARDLY STAND

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health

Worcester, Mass. — "I had some trouble caused by a female weakness and got so run-down and weak from it that I could hardly stand or walk across the floor. The doctor gave me all kinds of pills, but nothing helped me. I happened to meet a friend who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I thought I would try it. After taking it a week I began to improve, and now I feel fine and am doing all of my housework, including washing, sewing and house cleaning. I have recommended your medicine to my friends, and I am willing for you to use this letter as a testimonial, as I would like to help any one suffering the way I did from such a weakness." — Mrs. DELIA HICKEY, 4 S. Ludlow St., Worcester, Mass.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Affections Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. This book contains valuable information.

A wholesome spread that looks right and tastes fine on hot toast and hot breads

The flavor of Jelke GOOD LUCK, when spread on hot toast, is that of a very excellent and very delicious spread. Neither the taste nor the appearance is changed by the heat, except as it melts and combines with the toast in the usual and appetizing way.

On griddle cakes GOOD LUCK is equally satisfactory. While for plain bread GOOD LUCK is the finest spread possible. It tastes like you want it to; looks the way it should; and has plenty of food value.

In short, GOOD LUCK has every best feature of an ideal spread for bread. To serve it on your table is to take advantage of a thoroughly wholesome staple food product. The price is very moderate, quality considered.

JELKE GOOD LUCK MARGARINE

The Finest Spread for Bread

For sale—FRESH—at your dealer's, in a sanitary carton, with the name "John F. Jelke" on every package of the genuine

JOHN F. JELKE CO. CHICAGO
JOHN F. JELKE CO. OF NEW JERSEY
401 Liberty Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa.

BROWN'S 7 STORES BROWN'S 7 STORES BROWN'S

In Brown's New Spring Styles

—you will find the pick of the finest styles.

—you will find by far the largest style selection in this section.

—you will find footwear that is of dependable fine quality at prices well below the average.

40 new Spring Styles of Oxfords and Strap Pumps are displayed today in our window.

We invite your inspection of the styles and qualities and your comparison of prices with Shoes sold anywhere in the American Republic.

PRICES ARE

$3.95, $4.95, $5.95 and $7.50

All styles are obtainable at any

Brown's Boot Shops

DuBois
Philipsburg

CLEARFIELD, PA.
Indiana

Pennsboro
Bradford

Quart of Water Cleans Kidneys

Take a Little Salts if Your Back Hurts, or Bladder is Troubling You

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Eating too much rich food creates acids, which excite the kidneys. They become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood. Then we get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys, or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin drinking a quart of water each day, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys may act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to help neutralize the acids in the system, so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delicious effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby often avoiding serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

Some people find it hard to go to sleep even though they have been practicing for years and years.

OPEN NOSTRILS! END A COLD OR CATARRH

How To Get Relief When Head and Nose are Stuffed Up.

Count fifty! Your cold in head or catarrh disappears. Your clogged nostrils will open, the air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more sniffling, hawking, mucous discharges, dryness or headache; no struggling for breath at night.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist and apply a little of this fragrant antiseptic cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air-passage of the head, soothing and healing the swollen or inflamed mucous membrane, giving you instant relief. Head colds and catarrh yield like magic. Don't stay stuffed-up and miserable. Relief is sure.

For results try a Want Ad

MEN'S NEW ARMY HOBNAIL SHOES $2.95

Army & Navy Sales Co.
212 N. Third St
Guaranteed Savings

Relieves HEADACHE INDIGESTION TRUL-LA

LAUDERBACH-ZEEB CO. Distributors

John Barrymore is at his best in "Sherlock Holmes" coming to the Driggs on Wednesday and Thursday.

DOING ANY BUILDING THIS SEASON?

If you are going to do any building this season, you are going to need a plumber—and a plumber who knows his business and knows how to save money for you. To safeguard your pocketbook, get our figures on any plumbing contract you may be interested in. We will guarantee our work in every particular and give the whole job close personal attention, and we are just as careful on the everyday kind of work. Please call on us for any plumbing work, big or little.

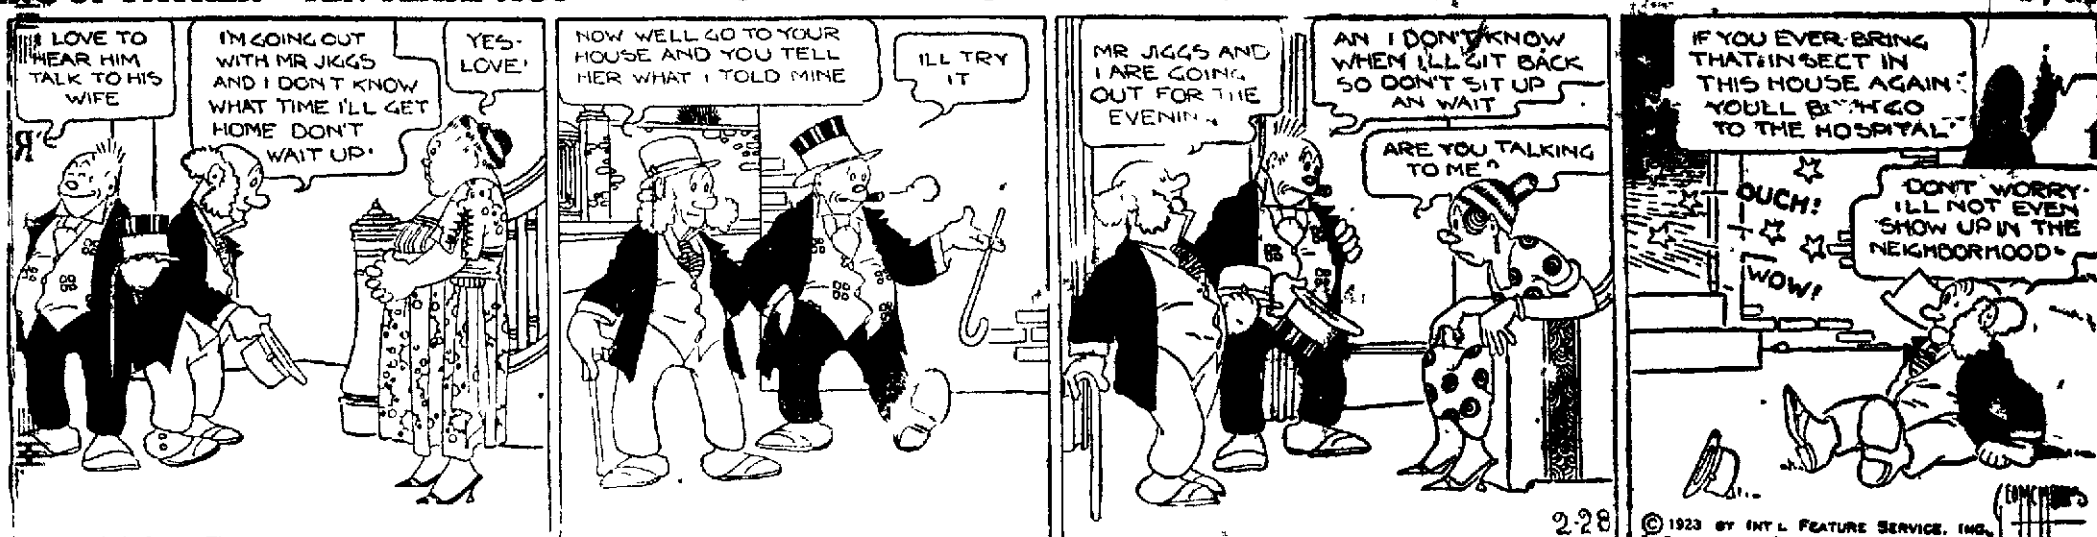

Richard Arrandale

Plumbing—Heating—Repairing
H. & C. Phone 435L
18 So. 3rd St., Clearfield, Pa.

Packed fresh in air tight tins, Golden Sun Coffee comes to you with all the flavor quality it possesses when it leaves the roaster. I find that largely responsible for the excellence of each steaming cup I serve. Ask your dealer for a trial can on a money-back basis.

Woolson's Golden Sun Coffee

BRINGING UP FATHER—TEN YEARS AGO

McCarty's ZERO BARS

are going like hot cakes, because they have the size and are being made with good material and careful workmanship. Always ask for—

McCarty's Zero Bars

McCarty's

"The House of Quality"

THE CLEARFIELD PROGRESS

Published every day except Sunday by the Progressive Publishing Company, Progress Building, Clearfield, Pennsylvania.

G. ALBERT STEWART, Managing Editor.
J. D. CONNELLY, City Editor. R. S. NIGHTINGALE, Adv. Mgr.
A. M. BRAUND, Foreman.

OFFICERS

R. H. SOMMERVILLE, President. G. A. STEWART, Sec. and Treas.
H. C. Telephone No. 176. Bell Phone No. 47

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION BY MAIL

One Year $4.00 Three Months $1.50
Six Months $3.00 One Month $.50

By Carrier 12 cents per Week Payable to Carrier.

Entered in Post Office at Clearfield, Pa., as second class mail matter.

The recent state conference on social welfare brought together at Johnstown several hundred men and women officially or voluntarily interested in and working for betterment of social conditions.

The three-day program included a wide range of subjects, from care of new-born children to consideration of proposed changes in the marriage laws. It dealt with charity, philanthropy, penology, health, work and education.

Perhaps the most important feature was an address made by Dr. Ellen C. Potter, newly appointed commissioner of public welfare on Governor Pinchot's staff—the first woman to hold cabinet office in Pennsylvania. She thus outlined the scope and aim of her department:

"Its purpose is to provide you as citizens with an organized governmental agency with a view of the whole need in the social field: Its function is to visualize the problems of the state as a whole, so that we will know such things as that from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh there is not a single institution to take care of crippled children, although the need for it is great.

"For 100 years or more the state of Pennsylvania has gone on developing philanthropy and social welfare without one atom of plan or constructive element. Seeing the problem as a whole and planning it as a whole is the big purpose and function of the department.

"The department must be absolutely non-political. That is fundamental to its success. We must not allow anyone to play football with the destiny of human lives.

"Our welfare staff must be technically trained and highly trained, because if they are not, the workers will give a stone when bread is needed.

"Educated public opinion is needed. The people must want the thing that's best. There should be, however, enough law so there can be a telling force behind public opinion to make action come, and come quickly."

Referring to home rule in matters of public welfare, she expressed her belief in the largest possible measure in cities of the first and second class, but said there should be a concurrence of opinion with the state in the working out of methods.

"The state's responsibility is to encourage welfare work done by private agencies. It must keep up the standards for the good of the child. It is safer in the hands of private agencies than in the hands of the state bureau. Our state has not begun to meet the needs which other states realize as their responsibility."

Doctor Potter also said, "The time must come ultimately when we commit ourselves to state responsibility for the insane exclusively."

Dealing with administration of relief to the poor, Edwin D. Solenberger, secretary of the state commission to revise the forelaws, said:

"There has never been in Pennsylvania any general, uniform, state-wide plan for the administration of relief to the poor. Poor districts were established in colonial days in and around Philadelphia, and as the state grew and developed and the various counties were organized, poor districts were provided for by special legislation.

"The county unit system exists in forty-four counties; for sixteen of these counties the county commissioners, in addition to their other duties, act as directors of the poor and perform their functions, while twenty-eight counties elect directors of the poor whose jurisdiction is separate and distinct from that of the county commissioners.

"The township unit system exists in seventeen counties, including Fulton the smallest county in the state, and Philadelphia, the largest. In the counties having the township system the poor boards number from nine in Montour to fifty-two in Lycoming—some counties actually having more than one poor board to each 1,000 inhabitants. There are six other counties having what may be called a mixed system. In these counties some poor districts cross the county lines, and directors are not elected, but are appointed by the board of judges of the county court, or in other instances by the president judge. In some of these counties there are municipal or borough districts, with other portions of the county not organized for public poor relief purposes.

"The commission has reached the conclusion that the subject is so complicated and affects so many different interests in the state that they ought not to make a final recommendation to the legislature without an opportunity for further study and consultation. Therefore, it has been decided to ask Governor Pinchot to continue the commission for another two years, so that the subject may have more careful and complete study, with a view to making a report to the legislature of 1925."

Condemning our prison system as antiquated, Dr. George W. Kirchwey, director of the Penal Reform Society, said, "This nation cannot claim a place in the band-wagon of progress so long as the present American jail is tolerated." He drove home his claim by declaring that in many penal institutions in Pennsylvania two-thirds of the prisoners are kept in absolute idleness, which is the best of crime-breeder.

The solution of the problem, Doctor Kirchwey said, is for the state to take over the control of the prisoners in its jails and make of it a state responsibility rather than a county charge.

The men committed to our county jails have not committed a county offense necessarily, he asserted. They have committed a state offense, and there is nothing worse or more demoralizing to the character or soul than enforced idleness. But that is what we are doing with our criminals to reform them and make of them fit citizens for their return to society.

Fits need for legal machinery to promote social economic efficiency was discussed by the chairman of the board of arbitration of the New York Men's Clothing Industry, who declared the fact that there is no law in this country which covers relations between employer and employee.

"We have left it to the government of force on both sides," he said. "Law doesn't establish any principles of government between the employe and the employer. Our condition today is nothing but anarchy. We must work out a system of law and adjust it to industry in general. Trade agreements establishing industrial courts for arbitration create a law which embodies a sense of justice to both parties."

"I believe we should do more research work along the line of promoting social economic fitness," said Miss Dorothea De Schweinitz, supervisor of vocational guidance and placement for the Philadelphia board of education. "Part-time education is getting a foothold in some places, and is meeting with success. Some places the persons working in plants are given an opportunity to go to school on alternate weeks, and are able to educate themselves while they are learning a trade. There is plenty of opportunity for the schools along these lines, and a further study is necessary. The schools can aid, and not only bring about individual economic fitness, but may bring about community economic fitness as well."

From Miss Muriel Brown, of the state department of public education, came the following criticism of certain present-day educational efforts:

"The fixed idea that all children ought to learn the same things in the same way in the same length of time automatically deprives at least one-third of the children in Pennsylvania of any real chance of development. Orphan asylums may in the past have displayed a leaning toward the uniform, but there is no record that even the most heartless of matrons ever insisted that individual uniforms should all be of the same size. The gigantic attempt of the last twenty-five years to standardize brains has resulted in a loss of child power that can only be estimated by the number of boys and girls who have done time as repeaters and left school to take up the duties and responsibilities of citizenship with the habit of failure firmly fixed.

"The sooner we get away from the idea that we must follow a uniform curriculum, the sooner we will free our children from the bondage of the textbook. The fixed idea that all children ought to learn the same things in the same way in the same length of time automatically deprives at least one-third of the children in Pennsylvania of any real chance for development.

"A program of reconstruction is clearly in order. Clearly, also, this must begin at the beginning, the first grade. It will pay us a thousandfold to concentrate our efforts at this point. The first step must be a restatement of the aims and objectives of primary teaching, and the development of a new teaching technique. The first two years in school must be considered in terms of adjustment to environment rather than academic advancement. There can be no standardization of work.

This is the golden moment for picking up loose ends, re-enforcing weaknesses, fostering special abilities. At present all that we can do is to classify children where the numbers are large enough in groups which are fairly homogeneous. In a large elementary school where this was done a year ago, the superior children are now doing advanced second-grade work, the teacher has no disciplinary problems, and every one is mentally on tiptoe all day long. The group of average children is progressing happily without failures at a slower rate of speed, but the third group is an aggregation of 'problems' whose needs are far from being met. They are still in bondage to the book!

"We have much to learn and far to go. As long as there are underprivileged children there will be juvenile delinquency. As long as there are unadjusted children there will be juvenile delinquency."

These quotations supply mere glimpses of the subjects considered and the viewpoints discussed. They evidence a healthful spirit of revolt against deep-rooted customs, and an increasing desire on the part of the public to deal intelligently with the manifold problems in this field of service.

Organized social service is a comparatively new thing, not only in this country but in the world. Application of scientific methods to every day needs which formerly were dealt with in a more or less haphazard way is still an experiment. In certain fields and places it has proved successful. In other instances its practical worth remains to be proved.

There can be no doubting the need for a definite system of investigation, consideration and treatment. There can be and is much doubt, however, as to the advisability of emphasizing the card-index phase at the expense of common sense based on every-day knowledge of human nature.

This card-index tendency—we use the term to include the whole system of superdetail work—is apt at times, unless carefully controlled, to interfere with the working of the humane viewpoint. We do not say this as advocates of sentiment, but as advocates of good, hard horse sense, amply tinged with the things of the spirit.

After all, there is just one place in which social welfare work centers, and that is the average home.

Work as we may with the output of these average homes, the surest and quickest way to lasting results is to deal with the cause and its native habitat—to work through rather than around the home.

At least some of the social workers in this state firmly believe in this as the road to final success. These are urging more attention to the cause, and less time and labor spent on effects. If they succeed in this, the battle against undesirable and unprofitable conditions will be at least half won.

WHEN YOU CAN SAVE NEARLY A THIRD ON STYLISH OXFORDS IT MEANS SOMETHING

These are all clever footwear. They are the ones which we sold for $6.00 earlier in the season. But the size runs are broken and we must clear out what is left to make ready for the coming Easter Footwear.

FLAT HEEL OXFORDS IN PATENT LEATHER, BROWN CALF AND BLACK CALF

LOW HEEL STRAP PUMPS THAT ARE MADE OF PATENT LEATHER AND DULL LEATHERS

These Oxfords and Pumps are all on the tables where you can look them over

LYTLE BROS.

Tom Sims

SAYS--

From the number of players at Hot Spring taking baths we will have clean baseball this year.

Men who thought New York was the place to make money were caught when they tried to pass it.

Government experts are advising us to set mouse traps for sparrows and no doubt the mice are willing.

Mr. Roberts of Winsted, Conn., had his teeth frozen. Mr. Roberts didn't mind it much, however, because they were in a cup.

Supposing Tut woke up and saw he electric lights in his tomb?

Massachusetts will send a former agent to Congress and former private claim it serves him right.

Michigan trout season may be extended and the trout hope it will because they hate to hunt their food.

John Barrymore is at his best in "Sherlock Holmes" coming to the Driggs on Wednesday and Thursday are without teachers. Dr. Hurty, of Indianapolis says the world will be crazy in 2123, showing he doesn't expect any change. We would hate to be a great man and get laughed at just because we didn't keep on being great.

Every spoonful of Kellogg's Bran helps free you from toxic poisons!

Constipation is largely responsible for auto-intoxication that leads to dangerous diseases unless it is not only checked but permanently relieved. Kellogg's Bran is the basis of a majority of human ailments which could be headed off if people would only help rid themselves of this serious, health-undermining condition, which can be easily done. Constipation must be fought to a finish—not with pills and cathartics, which are dangerous to the delicate membranes of the intestines and temporary at best—but with nature's greatest cereal health food—Bran—Kellogg's Bran, which is as delicious as it is beneficial.

Kellogg's Bran is wonderful in its work because it is ALL BRAN. And to get permanent relief, ALL BRAN is a necessity, for it is the "bulk" of Kellogg's Bran that sweeps and purifies, ridding the system of poisons and bringing conditions to normal. Eat Kellogg's Bran regularly—at least two tablespoonfuls daily; as much with each meal in chronic cases—and we guarantee that you will get relief permanently and naturally. Kellogg's Bran is sold in all grocery stores, drug stores, etc. Recipes on package. Leading hotels, clubs and restaurants serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. All grocers.

Income Tax Returns

The Collector of Internal Revenue for this district has assigned Deputy Collector William M. Hoover to this bank for the period of

March 5 to March 10, 1923, Inclusive

for the purpose of assisting taxpayers in the preparation of their income tax returns.

You are invited to take advantage of this convenience.

CLEARFIELD TRUST CO.
Temporary Offices, Littman Bldg.

Has your mealtime drink said "Pay up!"

A GOOD many people have had that message from coffee or tea after the drug, caffeine, has had its effect upon nerves or digestion.

Frequently the message comes at night, when nerves won't quiet down and sleep won't come, after the dinner cup of coffee.

There's no unfriendly after-notice from that good cereal beverage, Postum.

Postum delights the taste, gives comfort and satisfaction, and is free from any possibility of harm to health.

Try Postum with your meals for a few days and let the whole family, the children included, share in its appetizing, invigorating goodness. It will bring better nights and brighter mornings.

Your grocer sells Postum in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared; made by boiling fully twenty minutes.

Postum FOR HEALTH
"There's a Reason"

Made by Postum Cereal Co., Inc., Battle Creek, Mich.

THE KISS OF JUDAS

LY E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

Copyright, 1922, by E. Phillips Oppenheim
Arzt NEA Service, Inc.

SIR NORMAN GREYES, formerly of Scotland Yard, is devoting his life to tracking down arch criminal of many aliases and disguises, but known to him as MICHAEL SAYERS. Among Sayers' secret abodes was a cottage near an English golf course where he was served by a housemaid, JANET SOALE, and lived as "Mr. Stanfield." One day while Sir Norman, a guest at the golf club, was playing the course with "Stanfield," Janet shot and killed a police officer who had tracked Sayers to the spot. The maid professed to her master and to Sir Norman complete ignorance, but later confessed to "Stanfield" and became his accomplice, as is told in the present story by Sir Norman.

On the evening of my return from the Riviera after a three-months' holiday, I was accosted in the lounge of Marryage's Hotel by a middle-aged man of inconspicuous appearance who had been seated in a corner alone. It was some few seconds before I could recall him to my memory, but curiously enough a crowd of unimportant persons gathered about him in my mind even before I had recognized him.

"You haven't forgotten me and my golf down at Woking, Sir Norman?" he asked.

"I know all about him then."

"Mr. Stanfield, isn't it?" I said.

"No, I haven't forgotten."

I was a few minutes early for my party, and I accepted the offer of a cocktail from my golfing acquaintance.

"That was an extraordinary interruption to our first game," he remarked. "I knew all about him then."

"I heard you had left," I told him.

"You had no luck in your investigations, Sir Norman?" he inquired.

I shook my head. The subject was still a sore one with me.

"I had no luck at all," I confessed.

"I came to some conclusions which carried me a little way along the road, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

EXCUSE ME, BUT YOU ARE SIR NORMAN GREYST? HE ASKED.

four undetected murders and five great robberies up to the debt of your late department. Your people believe that the same person is at the head of it who planned all those robberies eighteen months ago and escaped arrest by shooting the inspector."

I affected to take only a casual interest in the information; but as a matter of fact I was considerably moved. If the man who had last concealed his identity under the name of Pugsey, but whom I strongly suspected to be the notorious Michael Sayers, had really come out into the open once more, life would certainly possess a new interest for me during the next few months.

We were a party of six that evening—a celebrated criminal lawyer and his wife, my friend from the Home Office, with his wife and sister-in-law, and myself. The criminal lawyer, who was our host, heard scraps of our conversation and leaned forward.

"You did not leave Scotland Yard when your reputation stood high, Sir Norman?" he said.

"A new era of crime has dawned, and the struggle is no longer equal. It isn't the ruffian of the world today who take to murder and burglary. The skilled and conscienceless scientist has taken their place. The criminal of today, in nine cases out of ten, is of higher mental caliber than the detective who is opposed to him."

The struggle should be the more interesting," I remarked vaguely.

It was a fancy of mine that my continued interest in my profession should remain as little known as possible and I talked for some time on the subjects to the lady who was seated by my side. We admitted Mrs. De Mendosa and her daughter's rope of pearls. My host intervened.

"It is women like that," he commented, "who choose to deck their bodies with jewels of fabulous value, who encourage crime."

"Roughly speaking, I dare say that necklace is worth eighty thousand pounds. If it is really true that Pugsey is once more at work, what an opportunity!"

"A woman must be very brave," my hostess declared, "to run such risks."

The jewels are probably in the hotel safe most of the time," I suggested. "I don't suppose she goes out in them."

"I can imagine Pugsey finding a few minutes in the hotel quite sufficient," he observed. "He or his successors, whoever they may be, would think little enough of human life by the side of, say, 50,000 pounds. By killing at night they certainly increase their chances of escape."

That closed our conversation upon the subject. We sat about in the lounge and drank coffee and liquors, danced for a time and smoked a few cigarettes. The party broke up as the lights in the lounge were being lowered. I was the only one of our little gathering remaining in the hotel, and I was talking for a few moments to the head porter, who was an old acquaintance of mine, when a man made a somewhat hurried entrance through the swing-doors and seemed on the point of proceeding to the office. As he saw me, however, he hesitated, and turning aside, addressed me.

"Excuse me, but you are Sir Norman Greyst?" he asked.

"I admitted the fact."

"Can I ask you to give me five minutes of your time on a matter of urgent business?"

I looked at him with some surprise. His voice and address were good, and in appearance he differed in no respect from the crowd of diners who frequented the place. He drew a card from his pocket and handed it to me.

I stepped underneath one of the electric standards and looked at the card—"Mr. Stanley DeMendosa."

Underneath was the name of a famous insurance company. I motioned him to follow me into the deserted lounge, and invited him to take a chair.

"Many years ago, Sir Norman," he reminded me, "when you were officially engaged at Scotland Yard, you saved our firm a great loss in the matter of the Hutton Gardens emerald theft."

"I remember it quite well," I admitted.

"We understand," my visitor continued, "that you have now resigned from the Force, but we hoped that you might be inclined to undertake a commission for us. It came to the ears of our chief quite unexpectedly that you were staying here, and he sent me after you at once."

"I can at least hear what the business is," I replied.

"There is staying in this hotel," the insurance agent proceeded, "a Mrs. De Mendosa, the reputed widow of a fruit merchant in Buenos Aires. She is the possessor of a very wonderful pearl necklace, which she has insured with our firm for a hundred thousand pounds. Our acceptance of the policy was a grave error which we recognized almost immediately afterward. We know nothing of the lady, and under those circumstances it is against our business policy to accept the risk. We have done our best to protect ourselves, however. Since the policy was issued, we have kept in constant touch with her, and have been in daily communication with the hotel detective. By tonight's post, however, we had a message from the latter to say that he was at home ill, and that during his absence his duties would be taken over by the night watchman. The policy has only one more week to run, and will not under any conditions be renewed. We want to know if, for any fee which you care to name, you will do your best to guard the necklace for us during that week?"

(Continued in Our Next Issue)

TRINITY METHODIST CHURCH

Events were varied, interesting and encouraging. The Bible school had a good attendance—up to 414; during 1922 it went up to 422 per Sunday. Offerings show decided increase. The missionary offerings, which include this March 4, will be given on that day in total.

Sunday morning brought out a large congregation, with many strangers. The sermon was an exposition of Psalm 46:5, "God is in the midst of her," being the central passage. Excellent music was interpreted during the day by the chorus and its members. At the close of this service, the representatives of the church that were assigned to making the every member canvass were called to the altar. More than 40 men responded. That group impressed the congregation with the magnitude of the task. Prayer was specially made for the visiting of the solicitors, the interest of the people and the response to the presentation of the budget.

Junior League had an interesting time, the blackboard drill in Bible was finely carried out, and the commandments studied by individuals, groups and entire League. The Epworth League was responsive to the study, "God seen best in the life of Jesus."

At night, from James 2:18 and following, with Washington's life, character and career for a background, the ethic of faith was worked out in strong terms and impressive lessons. Many young men were present.

This week's events start with Wednesday mid-week congregational meeting, which will be enlivened and broadened, strangers attend it almost every week, followed by monthly meeting of trustees. Thursday afternoon, 4 o'clock, Ladies Aid Society in business; from 5 to 7 Mrs. Frank Leibold's group, family names beginning with I, J, K and L, will serve a special supper for 30 cents, the members of A. H. Woodward's class serving ice cream and cake extra. Next Sunday, financial report in Sunday school and from the budget canvass.

Regretted Wasted Time.

Bobby will celebrate his birthday the latter part of next month. He was asked last evening what he would like, and after much debating he decided on a boat and a cab. After some further discussion as to when the toys could be purchased he said: "But if you bought them now I could be playing with them until my birthday."

Cheering to Meet of Us.

A French writer says "He who is never foolish is not so wise as he thinks." An old Greek philosopher went even further and said "The man who isn't a fool half the time is a fool all the time."—Boston Transcript

Must Be Paid.

As a rule the piper does not extend long credit. He has a habit of collecting promptly.—Boston Transcript

Must Have That Knowledge.

Every man is a volume if you know how to read him.—Channing

Mag-Lac Toothpaste

Here is the toothpaste that will cut the film that destroys your teeth and brings on that dreaded pyorrhea.

Irwin's Drug Store

PNEUMONIA

Call a physician. Then begin "emergency" treatment with

VICKS VAPOR
Over 17 Million Jars Used Yearly

John Barrymore is at his best in "Sherlock Holmes" coming to the Driggs on Wednesday and Thursday.

LIBERTY THEATRE TONIGHT

"ROUNDING UP THE LAW"

DRIGGS THEATRE TONIGHT

ADOLPH ZUKOR

presents

Betty Compson

—in—

'The Law and the Woman'

"The Woman in the Case"

A Penrhyn Stanlaws Production

Scenario by Albert S. LeVino

A PARAMOUNT PICTURE

ON HAND FOR HEARING

Gordon Montgomery, the wealthy young Bellefonte, his attorney John G. Love, an exalted chauffeur Arnett Woodson, who is charged with bootlegging from the Montgomery limousine at Bellefonte Friday evening last, came to Clearfield today to attend the hearing to be held before United States Commissioner O'Laughlin at 7:30 this evening.

MICKIE SAYS—

IT'S JUST AS UNBUSINESSLIKE FOR A MERCHANT NOT TO ADVERTISE ON ACCOUNT OF HIS EXPENSE AS IT WOULD BE FOR A FARMER TO HESITATE OVER BUYING FERTILIZER THAT WOULD BRING HIM BIGGER CROPS

One Key Only in Nigeria.

Duplicate keys are not wanted in Nigeria. An official ukase decrees that no machines for making duplicates are to be imported. Whether the purpose is to penalize an individual who loses a key by compelling him to buy a new lock, or to prevent persons with predatory instincts from opening the locks of law-abiding citizens, the official proclamation does not state. The Nation's Business.

Tyndall Great Scientist.

Tyndall was one of the first to suggest that the cause of the great changes that the climate of the earth has undergone in the past might conceivably be the formation of this canopy of gas in the atmosphere, capable of transmitting the luminous heat of the sun, but impervious to the dark heat rays radiated back from the earth.

Island of Guam.

The island of Guam, in the Pacific, which we acquired in 1898, is 5,044 miles from San Francisco and 1,506 miles from Manila. It is 30 miles long and 100 miles around, and boasts a population of 13,000.

QUICK RELIEF

What you must have. COLDS may develop into

INFLUENZA PNEUMONIA

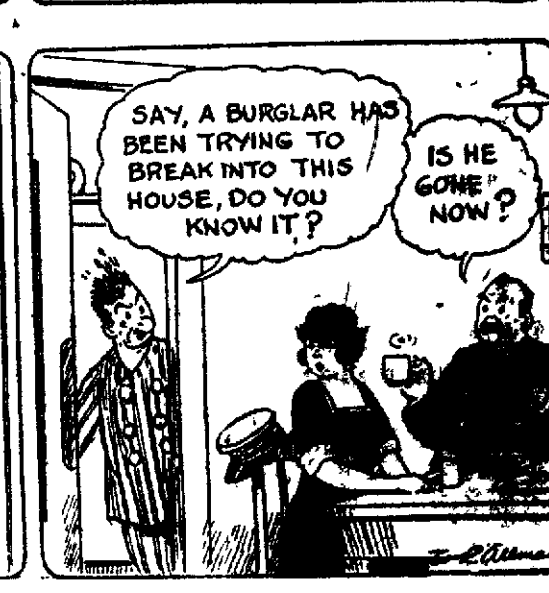

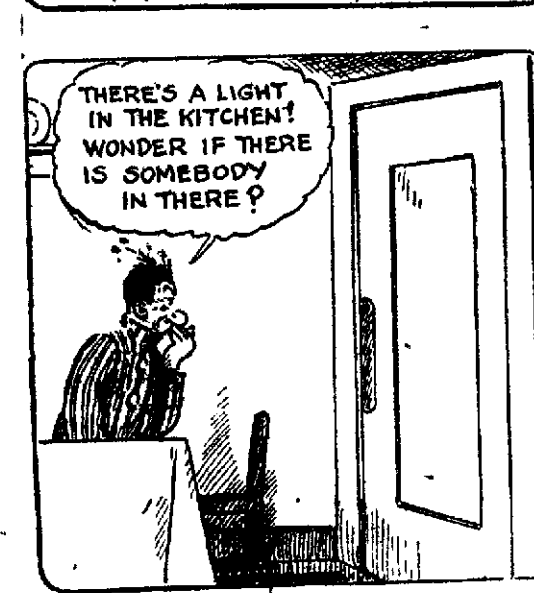

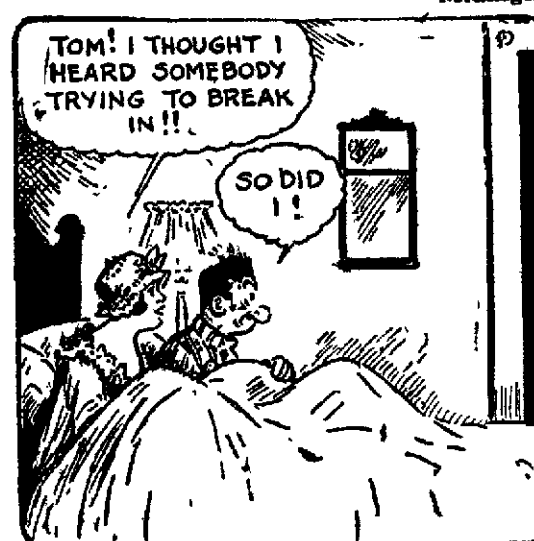

BULGARIAN HERB TEA
Taken hot at bedtime with lemon juice, works like magic.

It is used by millions.

DOLLS OF THE DUFFS

Midnight Callers

By Alton

THIS EVENING THERE WILL BE A GOOD
CHICKEN DINNER
(with Hot Biscuits)
75c

Our 50-cent Dinners are getting better all the time.
NEXT BIG EVENT WILL BE
St. Patrick's Day
Watch for the advertisement.

JORDANS

Gossip For Tonight's Tea Table

Walter Stewart of Winburne transacted business in Clearfield yesterday. C. J. Troxell and Ellis Troxell of Glasgow, Pa., were Clearfield business callers Monday.

Miss Gertrude Rumberger is visiting friends and relatives in Harrisburg.

Frank M. Woods of LaJosa was a Clearfield caller yesterday.

Mrs. Sarah Boyle of Blair county transacted business in Clearfield Monday.

Jack Kurtz has returned from a trip to New York.

Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Beihl have returned to their home in Pittsburgh after spending the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kolbe and family.

Arnold Lansberry has returned to college at Gettysburg after spending some time with his parents.

Joseph Hoyle of DuBois transacted business in Clearfield Monday.

David F. Bell of Bells Landing was a business caller in Clearfield yesterday.

Mrs. W. H. Patterson and Mrs. Cecil F. Wilson are shopping in Philadelphia this week.

Miss Lillian Moore left today for Fredericktown, Md., after spending the week-end with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Demi of Philadelphia spent the week-end with the former's mother, Mrs. Fred Demi.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bloom spent Sunday with Mr. Bloom's relatives in Curwensville.

Gay M. Baldwin returned to Williamsport last evening after spending the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Reed.

Jack Glover spent Sunday with friends in Curwensville.

Mrs. Ray Buddick (nee Ruth Stock) returned to her home in Indianapolis, Ind., after visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Stock.

J. W. Oxley has returned from a shopping trip to New York.

Miss Louella Lockard has returned to her home in Houtzdale after visiting friends here.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards' produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 12 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid liver.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not cause dizziness, but a heating, soothing vegetable purgative.

The "keynote" of these little, round, olive-colored tablets, they cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth," bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—rich, headache, coated, liver—constipation you'll find a quick, sure and pleasant relief from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

Get the Facts and Lose your Headache

In most cases, therefore, the right eyeglasses will put an end to all the pain and handicap of headaches.

Thin what it would mean to the man of our story and his whole family if he knew what glasses would do for him! Think what it would mean to hundreds of thousands of people who, just for the lack of knowledge about glasses, needlessly endure the agony of headaches and cannot work to win! If you have headaches, have your eyes examined without delay.

Get the Facts and Lose your Headache

In most cases, therefore, the right eyeglasses will put an end to all the pain and handicap of headaches.

Thin what it would mean to the man of our story and his whole family if he knew what glasses would do for him! Think what it would mean to hundreds of thousands of people who, just for the lack of knowledge about glasses, needlessly endure the agony of headaches and cannot work to win! If you have headaches, have your eyes examined without delay.

Julia, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Nelson, who has been very ill with pneumonia for the last two months, is slowly improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Greydon Bowers have returned from their wedding trip to Pittsburgh and other western cities. The bride was formerly Miss Lonetia Fray of West Side and the groom the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Bowers of Paradise. They will reside in Clearfield.

COURT NOTES

Attorney A. L. Edwards, representing Joseph Dunlap, of Decatur township, entered suit in Prothonotary Ralston's office on Saturday last against the Minerva Coal Company of Osceola in an effort to recover $457.37 alleged to be due for 130 tons of coal purchased from the plaintiff.

BOWERS-FRAY

Last Wednesday morning, in the Trinity Methodist church, the pastor, Rev. H. L. Jacobs, married with the ring ceremony Greydon Zebulla Bowers and Lonetia Elenore Fray, both of Clearfield, Pa.

OLD TIME LUMBERMAN DIES

William McCauley, a former resident of Portersburg, this county, died yesterday in a state hospital near Philadelphia, where he had been an inmate the past thirty years. His remains will be brought to the home of Mrs. Alice Rishell on South Fourth street tonight and the funeral will be held from there tomorrow afternoon.

The deceased was engaged in the lumber and saw mill business quite extensively at the time of his residence in this section and his ill health was due to a blow on the head from a limb while cutting down a tree.

He is survived by his widow, nee Gertrude Hoover, daughter of the late Wilson Hoover, of near Little Bridge, four daughters and three sons all of whom reside in Oregon.

John Barrymore is at his best in "Sherlock Holmes" coming to the Driggs on Wednesday and Thursday

COMB HAIR AND IT

STAYS COMBED, GLOSSY

Greaseless Combing Cream Costs Only
Few Cents a Jar at any Drug Store

Even obstinate, unruly or shampooed hair stays combed all day in any style you like. "Hair-Groom" is a dignified, greasy cream which gives that natural gloss and well groomed effect to your hair—that final touch to good dress both in business and on social occasions. Millions use greaseless, stainless "Hair-Groom" because it does not show on the hair. It is absorbed by the scalp, therefore the hair remains soft and pliable and so natural that no one can possibly tell you used it. Not sticky or smelly.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

All Scout officers who are responsible for monthly reports are reminded that this is the end of February and that half of the troops had no report in last month at all. Promptness, precision and obedience are the first things to be learned by a Girl Scout and the secretary or patrol leader having this in charge will, if she is real Scout, leave her report of attendance, etc., on the desk at the Scout home at the end of this week's meeting. It is impossible for those who wish to know how scouting is progressing in Clearfield to get this information unless this small but very important duty is promptly met.

This week's housekeeping troop is Number 7. Due to back work being so well done up on Saturday and Monday, the house is in very neat condition.

If each responsible troop takes care of its week the house can be kept in attractive and creditable shape with a minimum of labor to all.

Advanced Through Centuries.

Seven centuries ago Britain could not clothe herself; today she clothes more than half the world with the produce of her cotton spindles and her wool looms.

MICKIE SAYS—

"I'M JUST DOIN' THIS TO ATTRACT YER ATTENTION, BUT TO ATTRACT ATTENTION TO YER BUSINESS, YA KIN GUY BETTER RESULTS BY RUNNIN' AN AD IN OUR FAMOUS COLUMNS"

CHARLES SUGROE

BUY A BOOK EVERY WEEK

If you have not been buying a book a week you have been losing track of the best that is being put out in fiction.

Since the prices have dropped so materially on books, you can now afford to buy at least one a week and keep up with the best thoughts in the world.

We have something here you'll like. There are several sections containing at least one thousand five hundred books of different titles for different writers, something here for every taste.

Buy a book this week sure.

EAT OUR CHICKEN & WAFFLE

SUPPER

with all the trimmings

Tomorrow Night

5 to 7:30

WEST SIDE

RESTAURANT

FOOTBALL BANQUET TONIGHT

This is the night that the football warriors of C. H. S., that impregnable organization of beef, brains and brawn, that so valiantly upheld the honor of C. H. S. last season, are to receive the plaudits of the fans. The dinner will be served at The Jordan early this evening. Now that the training period is past, all restrictions are off on the "eats" and the boys are getting ready to rush Jordy clear off the field.

A snuffy cold?
MENTHOLATUM
clears the nose
passages

VITAMINES IN OUR MILK

You are hearing a lot these days about vitamins. They are something sort of intangible, except to the scientific mind. But this has been proven—take them away and the body starves.

There are three of them—a different purpose for each. And they are found in our milk and especially in our milk as it is delivered to your home. There are the ones to make fat, there are the ones to make muscle, there are the ones to build up nerves.

By drinking our milk you get all three in a very pleasant way and you'll find that you are thriving in health.

Clearfield Dairy Co.

The POP CORN —and— PEANUT SHOP

is making some very nice fudges. Those are made up in several varieties. Always something new to choose from.

Nichols Street
Just Over the Bridge.

GIFTS THAT LAST

When you are making a gift, you want to make a gift that will last longer than some mere bauble that possibly does not last over the day on which it is given. You desire to make your remembrance well worth the idea for which you intended it and there is nothing that will make as lasting a gift as jewelry.

We have something for every sort of anniversary or birthday and you will find that the prices on them are much more reasonable than you expected.

W. W. O'BRIEN

The Final Clearance

OF EVERYTHING OF A
WINTER NATURE IS IN
FULL SWAY WITH SPECIAL
OFFERINGS IN COATS, SUITS
AND WRAPS

A. W. Leonardson
Company

FRESH

FISH

AND OYSTERS

EVERY DAY

DURING

LENT

Thorn Bros.

For results try a Want Ad

Try a Progress Job Ad.

REAL BUCKWHEAT FLOUR

Fresh ground Buckwheat Flour, Showville Brand. Ground in the good old-fashioned way. Delivered anywhere. Also baked timothy and clover hay. All orders promptly attended to. Call A. B. Lansberry, Westland R. D. or Bell phone 394-51, for prices, etc.

For results try a Want Ad

Ward Off That Cold

If you will take one or two tablets, of our cold remedy now and then, you will find that you are warding off that cold that is starting.

Better take the proverbial stitch in time.

Aughinbaugh's
DRUG STORE

Extremely Low In Price Are These New

JEWELRY NOVELTIES, BELTS, WOMEN'S
NECKWEAR, LEATHER BAGS, COMBS, ETC.

DRESS CLASPS AND BUCKLES	50c to $1.25
EARRINGS	60c, 65c, $1.00 and $1.25
HANDBAGS	$3.50, $4.50 and $5.00
FANCY HAIR PINS	50c
FANCY BARETTES	12c to $1.00
BELTS	25c to 60c
PAISLEY BEADS	60c
DRESSING COMBS	25c to $1.00
POCKET COMBS, FOLDING	25c
BOX HAIR PINS	10c and 25c
CHILD'S VANITY BOXES	50c
WOMEN'S VANITY BOXES	50c and $1.25
SWEATER SETS	30c
BAR PINS	60c
METAL BARETTES	30c
BETTY BEADS	50c
CUFF PINS, pair	15c and 30c
WOMEN'S NECKWEAR	30c to $2.00
MEN'S SNAP CUFF LINKS	25c and 35c

ROSS AND WOODS
GENERAL MERCHANDISE

CLARK'S
COLD & FLU
CAPSULES

will break up that cold that's starting.
Has no quinine in it.

STEWART'S
DRUG STORE

CLEARFIELD, PA.

Both Phones

JOHN W. CLEARY

Optical Specialist
Woolridge Bldg.

Office Hours: 8:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m.

IF YOU DON'T GET
YOUR PROGRESS
LET US KNOW

CLEARFIELD PROGRESS

THE WEATHER
Fair tonight; somewhat cold-
er. Wednesday cloudy and slightly warmer.

VOLUME XVII

THE CLEARFIELD PROGRESS, CLEARFIELD, PA.,

TUESDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 27, 1923.

NUMBER 49

MOUNT PLEASANT BANK CASHIER DIES OF WOUNDS

Mount Pleasant, Ohio, Feb. 27.—Harry Price, Assistant Cashier of the Mount Pleasant Bank who heroically defended the funds of that institution against bandits Saturday morning, died early today at the Ohio Valley Hospital from his wounds.

Following his death, the banks in the small towns about Mount Pleasant pooled together a reward of $1200 for the apprehension of the bandits.

The town marshal of one of the villages has notified the sheriff that he believes he has the car in which the bandits rode, he having located a car stripped of license plates and having therein a quantity of blood stained absorbent cotton and handkerchiefs.

BRADFORD SLAYER REFUSED CLEMENCY FOR FOURTH TIME

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 27.—The Board of Pardons today announced they had refused commutation of death sentence to Floyd Smith of Bradford county, who is under sentence of death for the killing of his three week old illegitimate daughter.

The refusal marks the end of the most determined struggle ever made in the state of Pennsylvania for a human life. The case has been up before the Paydon Board four times and seven times has the defendant been saved from the electric chair through reprieves from the governor's office. The Board acted on eighteen cases and gave clemency in only five of them. Among those refused clemency was Lakin C. Taylor, convicted of the fraudulent sale of the Pittsburgh Steel and Tinplate Company of which he was the president.

Work Takes Place Of Fall; New Is Postmaster General

Washington, Feb. 27.—President Harding today appointed former Postmaster General Hubert Work to be Secretary of the Interior to succeed Albert Fall whose resignation takes effect on March 4th.

The President named Harry S. New, recently defeated for the nomination for Senator from Indiana, to succeed Work at Postmaster General.

62 DEER SEEN IN TRIP ACROSS THE MOUNTAINS

Claire Kelly, game protector, made a trip across the mountains on last Friday, the purpose being to observe how the deer are faring during the winter, and to secure some photographs. It took Mr. Kelly 12 hours to make the trip from Weedville to Clearfield and during the journey he saw 62 deer, in groups from a lone animal to 30 in a bunch. The deer seemed to be thriving, despite the fact that about two feet of snow prevail in the mountains.

Mr. Kelly stated that the traveling was very difficult for him and naturally the deer are also handicapped to a great extent. During the severe weather of the past two weeks the animals have been moving to the southern slopes where the snow is not so deep.

Mr. Kelly will go to Ridgway today, where he will superintend the distribution of a carload of Michigan deer. The deer, about fifteen in number, arrived at Ridgway last evening. They will be taken to the preserve near Spring Creek and liberated.

BRIG. GENERAL HINES HEADS VETERANS' BUREAU OF U. S.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Brigadier General Hines, at present chief of staff, was today appointed to the U. S. Veterans' Bureau to succeed Chas. Forbes who resigned.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY REVEALED WHEN BOATHOUSE BURNS

Woodbury, N. J., Feb. 27.—Residents of Mount Royal near here were attracted to a burning boathouse on Mantua Creek early today. In it they found Viola Staley, aged 23, dead with a bullet wound in her head and Harry Moal, unconscious with a bullet wound in his head.

The Coroner immediately began an investigation. Moal told the authorities the girl set fire to the boathouse and then committed suicide. Two notes found in Moal's pockets, one purporting to have been written by the girl, saying she had quarreled with Moal and threatened suicide and the other in Moal's handwriting saying he had attempted to commit suicide through fear that he would be held for the girl's death.

SUE TO GET MONEY SUBSCRIBED FOR STOCK BY MERCHANT

Some Clearfield county merchants are finding their dreams of easy money through their joining a wholesale purchasing agency or concern have gone aglimmering and they are now facing the fact that the notes they signed may be collectible even though the promises of the promoters of the enterprise did not assay "18-carat fine," in their opinions.

Yesterday ex-Deputy Attorney General W. I. Swoope, representing the American Dealers Trading Company, with a Delaware charter, entered suits in Prothonotary Ralston's office against Jacob Smutzinger, now of Phillipsburg, but formerly of Munson, this county; Thomas R. McCracken, of Mahaffey, and William Christoff, trading as the Brislin Lumber and Construction Company in an effort to collect $100 from each defendant named, being the amount of stock subscribed for in the proposed concern at the time it was being formed. According to the glib-tongued stock salesman, it is said, all stockholders in the concern would be privileged to purchase coal, lumber, cement, grain flour, feed, etc., at wholesale price and would reap great financial benefit from their association with the concern.

However, and regardless of the great promises made the defendants became disillusioned before the entire deal was consummated and refused to let go of the hundred plunks when called upon for same by the promoters. These latter gentlemen allege the corporation was formed nevertheless and the expense incident thereto require them to make every fellow who signed up pay up, hence the effort to enlist the machinery of the Clearfield county courts to make the collection for the stock purchased.

These stock salesmen visited Clearfield, with the intention of doing quite a business here on an advertising campaign in the newspapers. The Progress did not accept their advertising as we do not lend our aid to stock promotion schemes.

MRS. RAIZEN DRAWS 20 YEAR SENTENCE

New York, Feb. 27.—Mrs. Katherine Raizen was sentenced this morning to an indeterminate sentence ranging from twenty years to life in the state prison at Auburn, N. Y., for the murder of Dr. Glickstein on December 10th last.

There was a large crowd in the court room when Justice Gropp pronounced sentence. The prisoner took her sentence with a calm demeanor.

POWDER MAGAZINE BLOW-UP ENDANGERS TOWN OF SUPERIOR

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 27.—Practically every house at the little town of Superior, where is located Superior Mine No. 1 of the Superior Coal Company, was partially wrecked and shattered early today when a giant powder magazine near the mine "let go." The fan house, engine rooms and other machinery was damaged but the mine officials deny that any of the men in the mine were in danger. Scores were injured by flying rocks and debris.

WOMAN SHINER DID LOTS OF BUSINESS; JURY SAYS GUILTY

Mrs. Jane Covey, who comes from above Ramey and is said to have been one of the most notorious moon shiners and purveyors of the "devil's brew" she is said to have long been manufacturing, was convicted by a jury in Judge Bell's court yesterday afternoon. The evidence produced by the District Attorney was convincing despite the efforts made in her defense by Cortes Bell, Esq., and a couple of male character witnesses. The testimony of the latter was offset by that of five or six women of the community in which Mrs. Covey operated. It is alleged the bootlegger had a unique but highly successful way by which she secured empty bottles for her trade and is further alleged that not an empty catsup bottle can be found in the cellars of that community for miles around, while some of the fellows patronizing the place were gathering copious as far north as Houtzdale.

Mrs. Jane Stenesky, of Elbert township, who was tried in criminal court this morning on a moonshining charge, was found guilty of an attempt to violate the liquor law by having in her possession a big husky still and a barrel of mash well underway to produce a "kick." The woman was skillfully defended by J. M. Bell Chase, his efforts resulting in the jury tacking onto their verdict a recommendation to the Court for extreme mercy toward the culprit.

Siro Bianchi, of Coalport, who was found by the Federal prohibition enforcement officers, upon their recent raid in that region, with more wine in his cellar than the law allows, was lucky enough to draw down the minimum fine of $100 when he faced Judge Bell in criminal court this morning.

Federal Officer Sprague told the Court they had no evidence of a sale of the stuff by Bianchi, while J. M. Coleman, Geo. D. Benn and John K. Gorman, representative Coalport citizens all testified to the defendant's good reputation in the community.

CHICAGO LABOR WAR DEATH LOSS PUT AT 26 BY NIGHT RIOT

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 27.—Chicago's labor war claimed its twenty-sixth victim today when one man was shot and another wounded at a pitched battle during a meeting of the butchers' union. The shooting started when the Hebrew delegates threatened to withdraw from the Amalgamated Butchers' Union and set up a separate organization. Over fifty shots were fired.

EAST END BOY DIES

The little 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Caldwell, who has been an invalid for some time, passed away at the family home on Darcy street about 8 o'clock Sunday morning. The funeral was held this afternoon, with interment at Bloomington.

FIEND CONFESSES TO BRUTAL MURDER OF LITTLE CHILD

Philadelphia, Feb. 26.—Wiley Morgan, the prisoner held in connection with the kidnapping Saturday of six year old Lillian Gilmore and her five year old sister Dorothy, confessed today and led the detectives to a spot on the Neshamy creek near Croydon, Pa., where the body of Lillian was found in a camp hole on the bank of the creek. Croydon is 20 miles north of this city.

Beyond stating that he had killed the child and thrown her body on the bank of the creek after having assaulted both, the police withheld the details of Morgan's confession.

Shortly after the searching party headed by Lieutenant Belchaw, of the "murder squad" returned to the city a large crowd surrounded the station where Morgan was placed and threatened violence to the prisoner freely were made, and for a time it was feared an attempt would be made to storm the building. The police, however, soon gained control of the situation and dispersed the crowd.

AIR MAIL CARRIER CRASHES TO DEATH NEAR MEADVILLE

Meadville, Pa., Feb. 26.—Elmer Leach, of Cleveland, O., United States mail carrier, was instantly killed about ten miles west of Meadville shortly before 4 o'clock this afternoon when his plane crashed to the ground on the farm of Fred A. Crawford. The body was brought to Meadville this evening and an inquest ordered.

Leach passed over Meadville about 4 o'clock this afternoon, apparently in trouble, and looking for a place to land. He passed over the Crawford County Trust building not more than forty feet above the roof and over the Fifth ward at not more than fifty feet above ground, then disappeared westward. He was flying government plane No. 291 from Bellefonte, Pa., to Cleveland, and evidently lost his way in the fog.

ANTHRACITE TAX REPEAL WILL BE FOUGHT ON FLOOR

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 27.—The House Ways and Means Committee today favorably reported the Fowler bill calling for the repeal of the anthracite tax. The vote by the committee was 25 to 12. Many of the committee members, however, explained that they were not in favor of the repeal but voted to have it come to the floor of the House for a decisive vote.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Naolen Bowers on February 26th, twin girls. The welcome little strangers have been named Emma Lenore and Margaret Catherine in honor of their two grand mothers. Mrs. Bowers before her marriage was Miss Thelma Ogdey.

Buried Alive in Maryland Well

For 26 hours Mervyn Easton (with young well-digger of Savage, Md., was entombed more than 20 feet below the surface at the bottom of a well which caved in when it was being dug. Morphine and coffee was passed down to him while rescuers labored to save him. When rescued, Easton's arm was broken and he was unconscious.

Luis Angel Firpo, champion heavyweight of South America, is shown here on his arrival in New York from the Argentine. He is seeking Chamber's crown.

MURDER OF WEALTHY C. H. S. HAS NOT YET CONTRACTOR LAID TO LOVE AFFAIRS

New York City, Feb. 27.—A woman seen hurrying from the scene of his tragedy was sought today by the police following the murder of Fred Schneider, millionaire contractor, whose body was found on the lonely Seaview Avenue road with bullet wounds in his head. Two other women, one the wife from whom Schneider had been divorced, and his housekeeper, known as "Mrs. Schneider," were assisting the police. The housekeeper, Mrs. Anna Buzzi, aged 35, was questioned by detectives for six hours last night, after which she was held as a material witness. Schneider is about 46 years of age. Meantime the police are probing deeper into Schneider's love affairs. The housekeeper is the woman who was named as correspondent in the divorce action by Schneider's wife.

OLD TIME HOUTZDALER HERE

Isadore Frelin, of Houtzdale, aged 94 years, and one of the oldest residents of Clearfield county, was a Clearfield visitor yesterday. While here on a business matter he was the guest of his attorney, W. A. Hagerty. Mr. Frelin is exceptionally well preserved for a man of his years, retaining all his faculties to a remarkable degree.

MRS. J. R. McCARTY

Marie, wife of James Raymond McCarty of Pine Street, died shortly after eight o'clock this morning after a three weeks illness of articular rheumatism, which caused a weakened heart.

The McCarty family of four, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McCarty and two little boys, aged four and six, came to Clearfield early last spring from Uniontown, the husband and father to take a position as compositor and make-up man for The Progress. The finest type of citizens, those who have made their acquaintance, will learn of Mrs. McCarty's death with deep-felt sorrow and sympathize fully with the bereaved family in their loss.

A loving wife and mother, the deceased was indeed the ideal homemaker and her sacrifices during the recent illness of her sons, contributed largely to a weakened constitution which could not withstand the attack of rheumatism which brought her life to a sorrowful and untimely end.

The family will leave for their old home at Uniontown on the noon express. Funeral arrangements are not yet made.

By DICK LEIPOLD

Clearfield Hi's basket-ball team, whose recent conquest over Punxsutawney's brawny floor combination at Punxsutawney securely lashed the Red and Black banner on the top rung of the championship ladder, displayed flashes of form in winning the contest that clearly show that if this latent power can be worked into C. H. S.'s regular stride, the remaining games on the schedule will be easy victories for her. That is the problem that is confronting Coach Reed right now. Despite the splendid record of fourteen wins out of fifteen starts, the locals have not reached the peak of their development, as was shown in the last game, when after letting the scrappy Punxsy five jog along ahead for two periods, the local lads staged one of the greatest comebacks a team could hope for and won out under wraps.

Wonderful Fleet Game.

This remarkable rally is the "power" that Coach Reed is trying to attach permanently to his students' game. When geared at that pace, the Punxsy team, which is a strong combination were hopelessly outclassed. Going at top speed, Clearfield unleashed a high, snappy passing system that was as unstoppable as a wind driven prairie fire, while well-timed heaves at the basket had an accuracy behind them that the mounting score verified. C. H. S. also demonstrated that they were not a team built around a star, but a group of fast players, working as a unit. The fact that Coach Reed used eight men in a number of combinations with equally satisfactory results, stamps the Red and Black dribblers as the strongest squad in the league.

Big Test Friday Evening.

Clearfield's metal will be given the acid test this Friday, when Brookville High, flushed by their 42 to 21 victory over DuBois High, will invade Clearfield eager to avenge the 27 to 24 win C. H. S. registered over them at Brookville. Also, a win by Brookville would tie up the league again, and necessitate a post-season playoff between C. H. S. and Brookville.

BERLIN CONTINUES TO PROTEST USE OF BLACK TROOPS

Berlin, Germany, Feb. 27.—The controversy between France and Germany over the use of colored troops in the Ruhr by the French was continued today by the government when authoritative dispatches were picked up telling of black troops in two areas. The French have several times officially denied the use of colored troops.

Squire Sol McCully of Ramey was attending to business in Clearfield today. Mr. McCully buried his aged sister last week.

BATTLE BETWEEN DUBOIS CITIZENS NOW ON BOARDS

Long Pending Jeffrey-Carson Case At Last Reaches Trial In the Criminal Court Here.

CHARGE IS SERIOUS

A large portion of the brawn and muscle, bone and sinew, "brains, beauty and brass" of the city of DuBois came to Clearfield today to appear in the case of Com. vs. Hugh Jeffrey, special police officer of DuBois, who is charged by John Carson, DuBois business man and prominent citizen, with aggravated assault and battery and robbery from the person. This case grows out of an altercation between the officer and the citizen, which resulted in the former using, it is contended, more than the legally allowable force of arms in placing the citizen behind the bars of the city bastille. The alleged robbery occurred when the officer is said to have removed a diamond shirt stud and $385 in money from the person of his prisoner before locking him up.

The affair, out of which the prosecution grew occurred during the fall of 1921, the case having been pending since that time but was continued from court to court.

In justice to Mr. Jeffrey it is needless to add that the defendant denies the charges in toto. He contends that he was forced to lock the prosecutor up by reason of his conduct and verbal attack upon him; that there has been bad blood between them for some time and that the prosecution is a matter of spite and not founded upon any actual loss by the prosecutor, who he alleges also received the injuries complained of in falling while attempting to evade arrest.

The prosecution is being handled by District Attorney Arnold and W. C. Miller, while James A. Gleason of DuBois, and Charles J. Margiotti, of Punxsutawney, are the attorneys for the defense.

The case was taken up at 11:30 and examination of jurors begun. The hearing of testimony did not begin until late this afternoon. About fifty of the prominent citizens and city officials of DuBois including the biggest mayor in Clearfield county—Mayor Adam Haag—are in attendance at court as witnesses.

HON. BEN F. CHASE IS SERIOUSLY ILL AT MESSINA, ITALY

Local relatives were advised by wire from the State Department at Washington, D. C., this morning that Hon. B. F. Chase, United States Consul at Messina, Italy, is lying at the point of death in the Italian city, suffering from pneumonia, coupled with a general physical breakdown.

Consul Chase is a son of the late John M. Chase and a Clearfield County boy. He has been in the consular service for the past twenty years and upon his visit with home folks last fall had about decided to resign from the service and engage in business in this county. He is especially capable a representative and the State Department being loath to see him leave the service, induced him to reconsider his determination to resign on the promise of further advancement in the near future and he then decided to return to Messina.

Mrs. Chase is living in Ronkonk, Va., and has also been advised of her husband's serious condition.

TOMORROW IS LAST DAY LEGISLATIVE HOPPER IS OPEN

Harrisburg, Feb. 27.—The House agreed today to set February 28th as the last day for the introduction of bills. Golden, of Philadelphia, who objected so strongly last week, withdrew his objections.

THE CLEARFIELD PROGRESS

Published every day except Sunday by the Progressive Publishing Company, Progress Building, Clearfield, Pennsylvania.

G. ALBERT STEWART, Managing Editor.
J. D. CONNELLY, City Editor. R. S. NIGHTINGALE, Adv. Mgr.
A. M. BRAUND, Foreman.

OFFICERS

R. H. SOMMERVILLE, President. G. A. STEWART, Sec. and Treas.
H. C. Telephone No. 176. Bell Phone No. 47

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION BY MAIL

One Year $4.00 Three Months $1.50
Six Months $3.00 One Month $.50

By Carrier 12 cents per Week Payable to Carrier.

Entered in Post Office at Clearfield, Pa., as second class mail matter.

The recent state conference on social welfare brought together at Johnstown several hundred men and women officially or voluntarily interested in and working for betterment of social conditions.

The three-day program included a wide range of subjects, from care of new-born children to consideration of proposed changes in the marriage laws. It dealt with charity, philanthropy, penology, health, work and education.

Perhaps the most important feature was an address made by Dr. Ellen C. Potter, newly appointed commissioner of public welfare on Governor Pinchot's staff—the first woman to hold cabinet office in Pennsylvania. She thus outlined the scope and aim of her department:

"Its purpose is to provide you as citizens with an organized governmental agency with a view of the whole need in the social field: Its function is to visualize the problems of the state as a whole, so that we will know such things as that from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh there is not a single institution to take care of crippled children, although the need for it is great.

"For 100 years or more the state of Pennsylvania has gone on developing philanthropy and social welfare without one atom of plan or constructive element. Seeing the problem as a whole and planning it as a whole is the big purpose and function of the department.

"The department must be absolutely non-political. That is fundamental to its success. We must not allow anyone to play football with the destiny of human lives.

"Our welfare staff must be technically trained and highly trained, because if they are not, the workers will give a stone when bread is needed.

"Educated public opinion is needed. The people must want the thing that's best. There should be, however, enough law so there can be a telling force behind public opinion to make action come, and come quickly."

Referring to home rule in matters of public welfare, she expressed her belief in the largest possible measure in cities of the first and second class, but said there should be a concurrence of opinion with the state in the working out of methods.

"The state's responsibility is to encourage welfare work done by private agencies. It must keep up the standards for the good of the child. It is safer in the hands of private agencies than in the hands of the state bureau. Our state has not begun to meet the needs which other states realize as their responsibility."

Doctor Potter also said, "The time must come ultimately when we commit ourselves to state responsibility for the insane exclusively."

Dealing with administration of relief to the poor, Edwin D. Solenberger, secretary of the state commission to revise the forelaws, said:

"There has never been in Pennsylvania any general, uniform, state-wide plan for the administration of relief to the poor. Poor districts were established in colonial days and in around Philadelphia, and as the state grew and developed and the various counties were organized, poor districts were provided for by special legislation.

"The county unit system exists in forty-four counties; for sixteen of these counties the county commissioners, in addition to their other duties, act as directors of the poor and perform their functions, while twenty-eight counties elect directors of the poor whose jurisdiction is separate and distinct from that of the county commissioners.

"The township unit system exists in seventeen counties, including Fulton the smallest county in the state, and Philadelphia, the largest. In the counties having the township system the poor boards number from nine in Montour to fifty-two in Lycoming—some counties actually having more than one poor board to each 1,000 inhabitants. There are six other counties having what may be called a mixed system. In these counties some poor districts cross the county lines, and directors are not elected, but are appointed by the board of judges of the county court, or in other instances by the president judge. In some of these counties there are municipal or borough districts, with other portions of the county not organized for public poor relief purposes.

"The commission has reached the conclusion that the subject is so complicated and affects so many different interests in the state that they ought not to make a final recommendation to the legislature without an opportunity for further study and consultation. Therefore, it has been decided to ask Governor Pinchot to continue the commission for another two years, so that the subject may have more careful and complete study, with a view to making a report to the legislature of 1925."

Condemning our prison system as antiquated, Dr. George W. Kirchwey, director of the Penal Reform Society, said, "This nation cannot claim a place in the band-wagon of progress so long as the present American jail is tolerated." He drove home his claim by declaring that in many penal institutions in Pennsylvania two-thirds of the prisoners are kept in absolute idleness, which is the best of crime-breeders.

The solution of the problem, Doctor Kirchwey said, is for the state to take over the control of the prisoners in its jails and make of it a state responsibility rather than a county charge.

The men committed to our county jails have not committed a county offense necessarily, he asserted. They have committed a state offense, and there is nothing worse or more demoralizing to the character or soul than enforced idleness. But that is what we are doing with our criminals to reform them and make of them fit citizens for their return to society.

Fits need for legal machinery to promote social economic efficiency was discussed by the chairman of the board of arbitration of the New York Men's Clothing Industry, who declared the fact that there is no law in this country which covers relations between employer and employee.

"We have left it to the government of force on both sides," he said. "Law doesn't establish any principles of government between the employe and the employer. Our condition today is nothing but anarchy. We must work out a system of law and adjust it to industry in general. Trade agreements establishing industrial courts for arbitration create a law which embodies a sense of justice to both parties."

"I believe we should do more research work along the line of promoting social economic fitness," said Miss Dorothea De Schweinitz, supervisor of vocational guidance and placement for the Philadelphia board of education. "Part-time education is getting a foothold in some places, and is meeting with success. Some places the persons working in plants are given an opportunity to go to school on alternate weeks, and are able to educate themselves while they are learning a trade. There is plenty of opportunity for the schools along these lines, and a further study is necessary. The schools can aid, and not only bring about individual economic fitness, but may bring about community economic fitness as well."

From Miss Muriel Brown, of the state department of public education, came the following criticism of certain present-day educational efforts:

"The fixed idea that all children ought to learn the same things in the same way in the same length of time automatically deprives at least one-third of the children in Pennsylvania of any real chance of development. Orphan asylums may in the past have displayed a leaning toward the uniform, but there is no record that even the most heartless of matrons ever insisted that individual uniforms should all be of the same size. The gigantic attempt of the last twenty-five years to standardize brains has resulted in a loss of child power that can only be estimated by the number of boys and girls who have done time as repeaters and left school to take up the duties and responsibilities of citizenship with the habit of failure firmly fixed.

"The sooner we get away from the idea that we must follow a uniform curriculum, the sooner we will free our children from the bondage of the textbook. The fixed idea that all children ought to learn the same things in the same way in the same length of time automatically deprives at least one-third of the children in Pennsylvania of any real chance for development.

"A program of reconstruction is clearly in order. Clearly, also, this must begin at the beginning, the first grade. It will pay us a thousandfold to concentrate our efforts at this point. The first step must be a restatement of the aims and objectives of primary teaching, and the development of a new teaching technique. The first two years in school must be considered in terms of adjustment to environment rather than academic advancement. There can be no standardization of work.

This is the golden moment for picking up loose ends, re-enforcing weaknesses, fostering special abilities. At present all that we can do is to classify children where the numbers are large enough in groups which are fairly homogeneous. In a large elementary school where this was done a year ago, the superior children are now doing advanced second-grade work, the teacher has no disciplinary problems, and every one is mentally on tiptoe all day long. The group of average children is progressing happily without failures at a slower rate of speed, but the third group is an aggregation of 'problems' whose needs are far from being met. They are still in bondage to the book!

"We have much to learn and far to go. As long as there are underprivileged children there will be juvenile delinquency. As long as there are unadjusted children there will be juvenile delinquency."

These quotations supply mere glimpses of the subjects considered and the viewpoints discussed. They evidence a healthful spirit of revolt against deep-rooted customs, and an increasing desire on the part of the public to deal intelligently with the manifold problems in this field of service.

Organized social service is a comparatively new thing, not only in this country but in the world. Application of scientific methods to every day needs which formerly were dealt with in a more or less haphazard way is still an experiment. In certain fields and places it has proved successful. In other instances its practical worth remains to be proved.

There can be no doubting the need for a definite system of investigation, consideration and treatment. There can be and is much doubt, however, as to the advisability of emphasizing the card-index phase at the expense of common sense based on every-day knowledge of human nature.

This card-index tendency—we use the term to include the whole system of superdetail work—is apt at times, unless carefully controlled, to interfere with the working of the humane viewpoint. We do not say this as advocates of sentiment, but as advocates of good, hard horse sense, amply tinged with the things of the spirit.

After all, there is just one place in which social welfare work centers, and that is the average home.

Work as we may with the output of these average homes, the surest and quickest way to lasting results is to deal with the cause and its native habitat—to work through rather than around the home.

At least some of the social workers in this state firmly believe in this as the road to final success. These are urging more attention to the cause, and less time and labor spent on effects. If they succeed in this, the battle against undesirable and unprofitable conditions will be at least half won.

WHEN YOU CAN SAVE NEARLY A THIRD ON STYLISH OXFORDS IT MEANS SOMETHING

These are all clever footwear. They are the ones which we sold for $6.00 earlier in the season. But the size runs are broken and we must clear out what is left to make ready for the coming Easter Footwear.

FLAT HEEL OXFORDS IN PATENT LEATHER, BROWN CALF AND BLACK CALF

LOW HEEL STRAP PUMPS THAT ARE MADE OF PATENT LEATHER AND DULL LEATHERS

These Oxfords and Pumps are all on the tables where you can look them over

LYTLE BROS.

Tom Sims SAYS--

From the number of players at Hot Spring taking baths we will have clean baseball this year.

Men who thought New York was the place to make money were caught when they tried to pass it.

Government experts are advising us to set mouse traps for sparrows and no doubt the mice are willing.

Mr. Roberts of Winsted, Conn., had his teeth frozen. Mr. Roberts didn't mind it much, however, because they were in a cup.

Supposing Tut woke up and saw he electric lights in his tomb?

Massachusetts will send a former agent to Congress and former private claim it serves him right.

Michigan trout season may be extended and the trout hope it will because they hate to hunt their food.

John Barrymore is at his best in "Sherlock Holmes" coming to the Driggs on Wednesday and Thursday are without teachers. Dr. Hurty, of Indianapolis says the world will be crazy in 2123, showing he doesn't expect any change. We would hate to be a great man and get laughed at just because we didn't keep on being great.

Every spoonful of Kellogg's Bran helps free you from toxic poisons!

Constipation is largely responsible for auto-intoxication that leads to dangerous diseases unless it is not only checked but permanently relieved. Kellogg's Bran, in fact, is the basis of a majority of human ailments which could be headed off if people would only help rid themselves of this serious, health-undermining condition, which can be easily done.

Constipation must be fought to a finish—not with pills and cathartics, which are dangerous to the delicate membranes of the intestines and temporary at best—but with nature's greatest cereal health food—Bran—Kellogg's Bran, which is as delicious as it is beneficial.

Kellogg's Bran is wonderful in its work because it is ALL BRAN. And to get permanent relief, ALL BRAN is a necessity, for it is the "bulk" of Kellogg's Bran that sweeps and purifies, ridding the system of poisons and bringing conditions to normal. Eat Kellogg's Bran regularly—at least two tablespoons daily; as much with each meal in chronic cases—and we guarantee that you will get relief permanently and naturally.

You do not have to learn to eat it as a cereal or sprinkle on or mix with hot or cold cereals. Or, mix it with hot cereals, allowing two tablespoons for each person. Kellogg's makes wonderful soups, griddle cakes, raisin bread, macaroons, etc. Recipes on package.

Leading hotels, clubs and restaurants serve Kellogg's Bran in individual packages. All grocers.

Has your mealtime drink said "Pay up!"

A GOOD many people have had that message from coffee or tea after the drug, caffeine, has had its effect upon nerves or digestion.

Frequently the message comes at night, when nerves won't quiet down and sleep won't come, after the dinner cup of coffee.

There's no unfriendly after-notice from that good cereal beverage, Postum.

Postum delights the taste, gives comfort and satisfaction, and is free from any possibility of harm to health.

Try Postum with your meals for a few days and let the whole family, the children included, share in its appetizing, invigorating goodness. It will bring better nights and brighter mornings.

Your grocer sells Postum in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared; made by boiling fully twenty minutes.

Postum FOR HEALTH
"There's a Reason"

Made by Postum Cereal Co., Inc., Battle Creek, Mich.

Income Tax Returns

The Collector of Internal Revenue for this district has assigned Deputy Collector William M. Hoover to this bank for the period of

March 5 to March 10, 1923, Inclusive

for the purpose of assisting taxpayers in the preparation of their income tax returns.

You are invited to take advantage of this convenience.

CLEARFIELD TRUST CO.
Temporary Offices, Littman Bldg.

THE KISS OF JUDAS

LY E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

Copyright, 1922, by E. Phillips Oppenheim
Arzt NEA Service, Inc.

SIR NORMAN GREYES, formerly of Scotland Yard, is devoting his life to tracking down arch criminal of many aliases and disguises, but known to him as MICHAEL SAYERS. Among Sayers' secret abodes was a cottage near an English golf course where he was served by a housemaid, JANET SOALE, and lived as "Mr. Stanfield." One day while Sir Norman, a guest at the golf club, was playing the course with "Stanfield," Janet shot and killed a police officer who had tracked Sayers to the spot. The maid professed to her master and to Sir Norman complete ignorance, but later confessed to "Stanfield" and became his accomplice, as is told in the present story by Sir Norman.

On the evening of my return from the Riviera after a three-months' holiday, I was accosted in the lounge of Marriage's Hotel by a middle-aged man of inconspicuous appearance who had been seated in a corner alone. It was some few seconds before I could recall him to my memory, but curiously enough a crowd of unimportant persons gathered about him in my mind even before I had recognized him.

"You haven't forgotten me and my golf down at Woking, Sir Norman?" he asked.

"Mr. Stanfield, isn't it?" I said.

"No, I haven't forgotten."

I was a few minutes early for my party, and I accepted the offer of a cocktail from my golfing acquaintance.

"That was an extraordinary interruption to our first game," he remarked. "I was waiting for my little house number afterward. I gave it up, in fact, within the year."

"I heard you had left," I told him.

"You had no luck in your investigations, Sir Norman?" he inquired.

I shook my head. The subject was still a sore one with me.

"I had no luck at all," I confessed.

"I came to some conclusions which carried me a little way along the road, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

EXCUSE ME, BUT YOU ARE SIR NORMAN GREYST? HE ASKED.

four undetected murders and five great robberies up to the debt of your late department. Your people believe that the same person is at the head of it who planned all those robberies eighteen months ago and escaped arrest by shooting the inspector."

I affected to take only a casual interest in the information; but as a matter of fact I was considerably moved. If the man who had last concealed his identity under the name of Pugsey, but whom I strongly suspected to be the notorious Michael Sayers, had really come out into the open once more, life would certainly possess a new interest for me during the next few months.

We were a party of six that evening—a celebrated criminal lawyer and his wife, my friend from the Home Office, with his wife and sister-in-law, and myself. The criminal lawyer, who was our host, heard scraps of our conversation and leaned forward.

"You did not leave Scotland Yard when your reputation stood high, Sir Norman?" he said.

"A new era of crime has dawned, and the struggle is no longer equal. It isn't the ruffian of the world today who take to murder and burglary. The skilled and conscienceless scientist has taken their place. The criminal of today, in nine cases out of ten, is of higher mental caliber than the detective who is opposed to him."

The struggle should be the more interesting," I remarked vaguely.

It was a fancy of mine that my continued interest in my profession should remain as little known as possible and I talked for some time on the subject.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

We talked idly of various matters for a few moments—principally of golf, which I had been playing regularly in the south of France. There were several dinner-parties being given in the restaurant that evening, and some very beautiful women were in evidence. One in particular attracted my attention. She was tall, slender, and beautifully made, but all the clues ended abruptly. Yet I don't despair. I always have the fancy that some day or other I shall solve that mystery."

The waiter brought the cocktails, and we raised our glasses.

"I drink, then, to that day, Sir Norman," my companion said.

"I am with you," I declared heartily.

DRIGGS THEATRE TONIGHT

ADOLPH ZUKOR

presents

Betty Compson

—in—

'The Law and the Woman'

"The Woman in the Case"

A Penrhyn Stanlaws Production

Scenario by Albert S. LeVino

A PARAMOUNT PICTURE

LIBERTY THEATRE TONIGHT

"ROUNDING UP THE LAW"

Mag-Lac Toothpaste

Here is the toothpaste that will cut the film that destroys your teeth and brings on that dreaded pyorrhea.

Irwin's Drug Store

PNEUMONIA

Call a physician. Then begin "emergency" treatment with

VICKS VAPORUB

Over 17 Million Jars Used Yearly

John Barrymore is at his best in "Sherlock Holmes" coming to the Driggs on Wednesday and Thursday.

TRINITY METHODIST CHURCH

Events were varied, interesting and encouraging. The Bible school had a good attendance—up to 414; during 1922 it went up to 422 per Sunday. Offerings show decided increase. The missionary offerings, which include this March 4, will be given on that day in total.

Sunday morning brought out a large congregation, with many strangers. The sermon was an exposition of Psalm 46:5, "God is in the midst of her," being the central passage. Excellent music was interpreted during the day by the chorus and its members. At the close of this service, the representatives of the church that were assigned to making the every member canvass were called to the altar. More than 40 men responded. That group impressed the congregation with the magnitude of the task. Prayer was specially made for the visiting of the solicitors, the interest of the people and the response to the presentation of the budget.

Junior League had an interesting time, the blackboard drill in Bible was finely carried out, and the commandments studied by individuals, groups and entire League. The Epworth League was responsive to the study, "God seen best in the life of Jesus."

At night, from James 2:18 and following, with Washington's life, character and career for a background, the ethic of faith was worked out in strong terms and impressive lessons. Many young men were present. This week's events start with Wednesday mid-week congregational meeting, which will be enlivened and broadened, strangers attend it almost every week, followed by monthly meeting of trustees. Thursday afternoon, 4 o'clock, Ladies Aid Society in business; from 5 to 7 Mrs. Frank Leibold's group, family names beginning with I, J, K and L, will serve a special supper for 30 cents, the members of A. H. Woodward's class serving ice cream and cake extra. Next Sunday, financial report in Sunday school and from the budget canvass.

Regretted Wasted Time.

Bobby will celebrate his birthday the latter part of next month. He was asked last evening what he would like, and after much debating he decided on a boat and a cab. After some further discussion as to when the toys could be purchased he said: "But if you bought them now I could be playing with them until my birthday."

Cheering to Meet of Us.

A French writer says "He who is never foolish is not so wise as he thinks." An old Greek philosopher went even further and said "The man who isn't a fool half the time is a fool all the time."—Boston Transcript

Must Be Paid.

As a rule the piper does not extend long credit. He has a habit of collecting promptly.—Boston Transcript

Must Have That Knowledge. Every man is a volume if you know how to read him.—Channing

ON HAND FOR HEARING

Gordon Montgomery, the wealthy young Bellefonte, his attorney John G. Love, an exalted chauffeur Arnett Woodson, who is charged with bootlegging from the Montgomery limousine at Bellefonte Friday evening last, came to Clearfield today to attend the hearing to be held before United States Commissioner O'Laughlin at 7:30 this evening.

MICKIE SAYS—

IT'S JUST AS UNBUSINESSLIKE FOR A MERCHANT NOT TO ADVERTISE ON ACCOUNT OF HIS EXPENSE AS IT WOULD BE FOR A FARMER TO HESITATE OVER BUYING FERTILIZER THAT WOULD BRING HIM BIGGER CROPS

One Key Only in Nigeria.

Duplicate keys are not wanted in Nigeria. An official ukase decrees that no machines for making duplicates are to be imported. Whether the purpose is to penalize an individual who loses a key by compelling him to buy a new lock, or to prevent persons with predatory instincts from opening the locks of law-abiding citizens, the official proclamation does not state.—The Nation's Business.

Tyndall Great Scientist.

Tyndall was one of the first to suggest that the cause of the great changes that the climate of the earth has undergone in the past might conceivably be the formation of this canopy of gas in the atmosphere, capable of transmitting the luminous heat of the sun, but impervious to the dark heat rays radiated back from the earth.

Island of Guam.

The island of Guam, in the Pacific, which we acquired in 1898, is 5,044 miles from San Francisco and 1,506 miles from Manila. It is 30 miles long and 100 miles around, and boasts a population of 13,000.

QUICK RELIEF

What you must have. COLDS may develop into

INFLUENZA PNEUMONIA

BULGARIAN HERB TEA

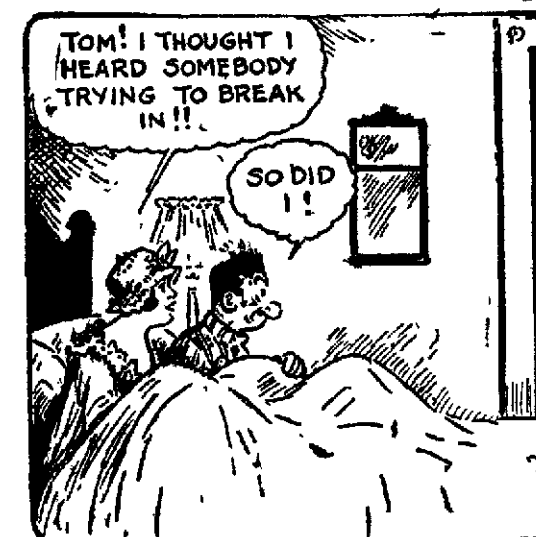

Taken hot at bedtime with lemon juice, works like magic.

It is used by millions.

DOLLS OF THE DUFFS

Midnight Callers

By Alton

TOM! I THOUGHT I HEARD SOMEBODY TRYING TO BREAK IN!!

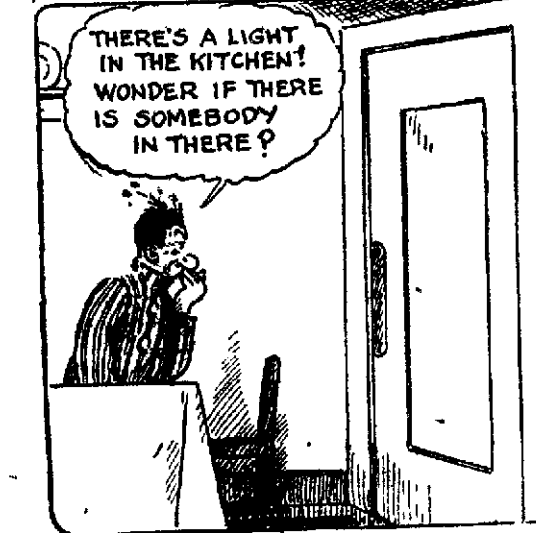

SO DID I!!

THERE'S A LIGHT IN THE KITCHEN! WONDER IF THERE IS SOMEBODY IN THERE?

SAY, A BURGLAR HAS BEEN TRYING TO BREAK INTO THIS HOUSE, DO YOU KNOW IT?

IS HE GONE NOW?

THIS EVENING THERE WILL BE A GOOD
CHICKEN DINNER
(with Hot Biscuits)
75c

Our 50-cent Dinners are getting better all the time.
NEXT BIG EVENT WILL BE
St. Patrick's Day
Watch for the advertisement.

JORDANS

Gossip For Tonight's Tea Table

Walter Stewart of Winburne transacted business in Clearfield yesterday. C. J. Troxell and Ellis Troxell of Glasgow, Pa., were Clearfield business callers Monday.

Miss Gertrude Rumberger is visiting friends and relatives in Harrisburg.

Frank M. Woods of LaJosa was a Clearfield caller yesterday.

Mrs. Sarah Boyle of Blair county transacted business in Clearfield Monday.

Jack Kurtz has returned from a trip to New York.

Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Beihl have returned to their home in Pittsburgh after spending the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kolbe and family.

Arnold Lansberry has returned to college at Gettysburg after spending some time with his parents.

Joseph Boyle of DuBois transacted business in Clearfield Monday.

David F. Bell of Bells Landing was a business caller in Clearfield yesterday.

Mrs. W. H. Patterson and Mrs. Cecil F. Wilson are shopping in Philadelphia this week.

Miss Lillian Moore left today for Fredericktown, Md., after spending the week-end with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Demi of Philadelphia spent the week-end with the former's mother, Mrs. Fred Demi.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bloom spent Sunday with Mr. Bloom's relatives in Curwensville.

Gay M. Baldwin returned to Williamsport last evening after spending the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Reed.

Jack Glover spent Sunday with friends in Curwensville.

Mrs. Ray Buddick (nee Ruth Stock) returned to her home in Indianapolis, Ind., after visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Stock.

J. W. Oxley has returned from a shopping trip to New York.

Miss Louella Lockard has returned to her home in Houtzdale after visiting friends here.

Mrs. Hassinger of Philipsburg is a surgical patient at the Clearfield hospital.

Arthur Devins and Frank Kelly of Curwensville spent Sunday with friends in Clearfield.

Miss Mildred Reese of Coudley was a Clearfield shopper yesterday.

W. S. Sterrett and Bremo Wright transacted business in DuBois.

Mrs. A. I. Nevling and children have joined Dr. A. I. Nevling, being called here on account of the illness of Dr. Nevling's father.

Catherine Kephart gave a surprise drop-in last evening. All had a jolly time.

Joe Spiece, of Ramey, former fabricator builder for Billy Sunday, was in town yesterday and today but denied that he was rounding up a supply of empty bottles, and we believed him.

'Squire James Ruffner of Madera, who presented the petition to the Court asking for the appointment of a Deputy Constable for Bigler township, was in town yesterday to business matters today.

W. E. Philips is able to be out again after a week's illness.

Mr. and Mrs. M. O. A. Sahn entertained at six o'clock dinner Thursday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson Bell who will leave for the South. Covers were laid for ten.

TODAY'S STOCKS

American Locomotive	125
Baldwin Loco	135 1/2
Baltimore & Ohio	53 1/2
Reichle B	60 1/2
Crucible Steel	78 1/2
Crescent Motors	14 1/2
Great Northern Ry.	78 1/2
Lehigh Valley	68 1/2
Middle States Oil	11 1/2
Middle Steel	20 1/2
N. Y. C.	97 1/2
Pennsylvania	46 1/2
Sinclair Oil	33 1/2
Studebaker	119 1/2
Texas Co.	50 1/2
U. S. Steel	106 1/2
Wells Overland	7 1/2
Call money	5 1/2
Liberty Bonds Closing
Liberty 2nd 4 1/2's	98 02
Liberty 4th 4 1/2's	98 14

Subscribe for the Progress

Julia, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Nelson, who has been very ill with pneumonia for the last two months, is slowly improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Greydon Bowers have returned from their wedding trip to Pittsburgh and other western cities. The bride was formerly Miss Lonetia Fray of West Side and the groom the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Bowers of Paradise. They will reside in Clearfield.

COURT NOTES

Attorney A. I. Edwards, representing Joseph Dunlap, of Decatur township, entered suit in Prothonotary Ralston's office on Saturday last against the Minerva Coal Company of Osceola in an effort to recover $457.37 alleged to be due for 130 tons of coal purchased from the plaintiff.

BOWERS-FRAY

Last Wednesday morning, in the Trinity Methodist church, the pastor, Rev. H. L. Jacobs, married with the ring ceremony Greydon Zebulla Bowers and Lonetia Elenore Fray, both of Clearfield, Pa.

OLD TIME LUMBERMAN DIES

William McCauley, a former resident of Portersburg, this county, died yesterday in a state hospital near Philadelphia, where he had been an inmate the past thirty years. His remains will be brought to the home of Mrs. Alice Rishell on South Fourth street tonight and the funeral will be held from there tomorrow afternoon.

The deceased was engaged in the lumber and saw mill business quite extensively at the time of his residence in this section and his ill health was due to a blow on the head from a limb while cutting down a tree.

He is survived by his widow, nee Gertrude Hoover, daughter of the late Wilson Hoover, of near Little Bridge, four daughters and three sons all of whom reside in Oregon.

John Barrymore is at his best in "Sherlock Holmes" coming to the Driggs on Wednesday and Thursday

COMB HAIR AND IT

STAYS COMBED, GLOSSY

Greaseless Combing Cream Costs Only
Few Cents a Jar at any Drug Store

Even obstinate, unruly or shampooed hair stays combed all day in any style you like. "Hair-Groom" is a dignified combing cream which gives that natural gloss and well groomed effect to your hair—that final touch to good dress both in business and on social occasions. Millions use greaseless, stainless "Hair-Groom" because it does not show on the hair. It is absorbed by the scalp, therefore the hair remains soft and pliable and so natural that no one can possibly tell you used it. Not sticky or smelly.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

All Scout officers who are responsible for monthly reports are reminded that this is the end of February and that half of the troops had no report in last month at all. Promptness, precision and obedience are the first things to be learned by a Girl Scout and the secretary or patrol leader having this in charge will, if she is real Scout, leave her report of attendance, etc., on the desk at the Scout home at the end of this week's meeting. It is impossible for those who wish to know how scouting is progressing in Clearfield to get this information unless this small but very important duty is promptly met.

This week's housekeeping troop is Number 7. Due to back work being so well done up on Saturday and Monday, the house is in very neat condition.

If each responsible troop takes care of its week the house can be kept in attractive and creditable shape with a minimum of labor to all.

Advanced Through Centuries.

Seven centuries ago Britain could not clothe herself; today she clothes more than half the world with the produce of her cotton spindles and her wool looms.

MICKIE SAYS—

"I'M JUST DOIN' THIS TO ATTRACT YER ATTENTION, BUT TO ATTRACT ATTENTION TO YER BUSINESS, YA KIN GUY BETTER RESULTS BY RUNNIN' AN AD IN OUR FAMOUS COLUMNS"

CHARLES SUGROE

BUY A BOOK EVERY WEEK

If you have not been buying a book a week you have been losing track of the best that is being put out in fiction.

Since the prices have dropped so materially on books, you can now afford to buy at least one a week and keep up with the best thoughts in the world.

We have something here you'll like. There are several sections containing at least one thousand five hundred books of different titles for different writers, something here for every taste.

Buy a book this week sure.

EAT OUR CHICKEN & WAFFLE

SUPPER

with all the trimmings

Tomorrow Night

5 to 7:30

WEST SIDE

RESTAURANT

FOOTBALL BANQUET TONIGHT

This is the night that the football warriors of C. H. S., that impregnable organization of beef, brains and brawn, that so valiantly upheld the honor of C. H. S. last season, are to receive the plaudits of the fans. The dinner will be served at The Jordan early this evening. Now that the training period is past, all restrictions are off on the "eats" and the boys are getting ready to rush Jordy clear off the field.

A snuffy cold?
MENTHOLATUM
clears the nose
passages

VITAMINES IN OUR MILK

You are hearing a lot these days about vitamins. They are something sort of intangible, except to the scientific mind. But this has been proven—take them away and the body starves.

There are three of them—a different purpose for each. And they are found in our milk and especially in our milk as it is delivered to your home. There are the ones to make fat, there are the ones to make muscle, there are the ones to build up nerves.

By drinking our milk you get all three in a very pleasant way and you'll find that you are thriving in health.

Clearfield Dairy Co.

The POP CORN —and— PEANUT SHOP

is making some very nice fudges. Those are made up in several varieties. Always something new to choose from.

Nichols Street
Just Over the Bridge.

GIFTS THAT LAST

When you are making a gift, you want to make a gift that will last longer than some mere bauble that possibly does not last over the day on which it is given. You desire to make your remembrance well worth the idea for which you intended it and there is nothing that will make as lasting a gift as jewelry.

We have something for every sort of anniversary or birthday and you will find that the prices on them are much more reasonable than you expected.

W. W. O'BRIEN

The Final Clearance

OF EVERYTHING OF A
WINTER NATURE IS IN
FULL SWAY WITH SPECIAL
OFFERINGS IN COATS, SUITS
AND WRAPS

A. W. Leonardson
Company

FRESH

FISH

AND OYSTERS

EVERY DAY

DURING

LENT

Thorn Bros.

For results try a Want Ad

Try a Progress Job Ad.

REAL BUCKWHEAT FLOUR

Fresh ground Buckwheat Flour, Showville Brand. Ground in the good old-fashioned way. Delivered anywhere. Also baked timothy and clover hay. All orders promptly attended to. Call A. B. Lansberry, Westland R. D. or Bell phone 394-51, for prices, etc.

For results try a Want Ad

Ward Off That Cold

If you will take one or two tablets, of our cold remedy now and then, you will find that you are warding off that cold that is starting.

Better take the proverbial stitch in time.

Aughinbaugh's
DRUG STORE

Extremely Low In Price Are These New

JEWELRY NOVELTIES, BELTS, WOMEN'S
NECKWEAR, LEATHER BAGS, COMBS, ETC.

DRESS CLASPS AND BUCKLES	50c to $1.25
EARRINGS	60c, 65c, $1.00 and $1.25
HANDBAGS	$3.50, $4.50 and $5.00
FANCY HAIR PINS	50c
FANCY BARETTES	12c to $1.00
BELTS	25c to 60c
PAISLEY BEADS	60c
DRESSING COMBS	25c to $1.00
POCKET COMBS, FOLDING	25c
BOX HAIR PINS	10c and 25c
CHILD'S VANITY BOXES	50c
WOMEN'S VANITY BOXES	50c and $1.25
SWEATER SETS	30c
BAR PINS	60c
METAL BARETTES	30c
BETTY BEADS	50c
CUFF PINS, pair	15c and 30c
WOMEN'S NECKWEAR	30c to $2.00
MEN'S SNAP CUFF LINKS	25c and 35c

ROSS AND WOODS
GENERAL MERCHANDISE

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards' produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 12 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid liver.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not cause dizziness, but a heating, soothing vegetable laxative.

Their action is the "keynote" of these little, round, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—rich headache—torpid liver—constipation—you'll find a quick, sure and pleasant relief from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

Get them at your drug store or by mail from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Co., 1111 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.

CLARK'S COLD & FLU CAPSULES

will break up that
cold that's starting.
Has no quinine in it.

STEWART'S
DRUG STORE
CLEARFIELD, PA.

Get a Headache vs. Get Glasses

What are the facts in this commonplace episode, the facts back of nearly all headaches?

Defective eyesight! Some authorities say 90% of all headaches are caused by eyestrain; no authority puts it less than 70%. Leave it to your own experience. When getting a headache, you close your eyes, don't you?

Eyestrain the Principal Cause of Headaches
Of the twelve pairs of nerves in the skull, six have some connection with the eye. No wonder the dull ache from eyestrain occurs in any part of the head! So when defective eyes are called upon to do the eye-work required by modern life, the tired ocular muscles set up pain along the nerves connecting with the other parts of the head. A correctly fitted pair of glasses gets at the cause. Glasses banish not one headache but a thousand.

Get the Facts and Lose your Headache

In most cases, therefore, the right eyeglasses will put an end to all the pain and handicap of headaches. Think what it would mean to the man of our story and his whole family if he knew what glasses would do for him! Think what it would mean to hundreds of thousands of people who, just for the lack of knowledge about glasses, needlessly endure the agony of headaches and cannot work to win! If you have headaches, have your eyes examined without delay.

JOHN W. CLEARY

Optical Specialist
Woolridge Bldg.

Both Phones

Office Hours: 8:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m.